She thinks that the William Pafford living next door to John Pafford in 1850 might be the FIRST child of John. William being 26 yrs.(it is very possible,I think)

I tried to send mail to you all through the day on Friday, but aol wasn't sending. Now I think I can get through. Yes, June Pafford Anderson has sent a lot of information to me. In fact, the 5 dau. and 5 sons information came from her. She found that in census records. I imagine we all have the same information about William and the only child named is Politha. June thinks our Randolph is the son of William that was born in 1810. I am not convinced and still following the theory that Thomas of DeKalb is his father, Nancy his mother, and Ethery and Susannah his sisters. It is family tradition that the Georgia Paffords are cousins. Proof for any of this is non-existant, as far as I'm concerned. Would love to prove June's theory about William and Randolph so we could qualify for DAR. I am keeping your e-mail address on file and will contact you should I learn anything more about Rev. War William. The Pafford name is unusual, so a little easier to research and in the early days, I believe all were closely related. If you have June's current address I would like to have it. My last letter a year ago to her was returned.

Send E-Mail -
do not have address for June -

I am in touch with several who are researching the early Pafford line and none of us have been able to document Rev. War. William's children. We believe he married 3 wives and had 5 sons and 5 daughters by first wife between 1784 and 1810, all found in census records. In1826 he married Betsy, age 34. In 1839 he married Haney Bulling and had daughter Politha. He died in 1848. Several of us would like some documentation for the DAR and SAR. We haven't been successful. My great-grandfather was Randolph A. Pafford, born in 1810 in N.C. who may be son of William's or he may be son of Thomas who lived in DeKalb, Tennessee. Randolph lived near Thomas in DeKalb and then migrated to Texas in the early 1850's. My main search now is to learn who his parents were. He is said to be closely related to the Georgia Paffords. Thomas, b.1784, John Franklin b. 1798,and William,b. 1800 may be sons of William, b.1765 in England. There is no proof that we know of.

The address for Jackson Pafford Braddy is:
Internet: E-Mail him @ jackson@mindspring.com

US mail address: 1421 Peachtree St., N.E., #506; Atlanta, GA 30309-3001

His phone # is: (404) 881-8879

The "Pafford Connection" Newsletter as written by Jackson Pafford Braddy is to honor those who preserve the old Pafford Church at Springhead United Methodist Church. It is intended for all those who are connected to Rowan Pafford & his neighbors, whether by kinship or friendship or as descendants of those who settled this area more than a century agao.

As to the English connection, Mr. Brewer's book stated just about what I wrote you earlier about. The original James Pafford the 1st who married Mary Matthew had the following children:

1. Polly Pafford b. 1762 in Portsmouth, England
2. James Pafford (first son born with this name & believed to have later died) b. 1763
3. William Pafford, (this was originally thought to be the ancestor of the two Pafford brothers to come to Benton Co., TN. He m. Haney Mabe Bullion (sp) b. 1766 in Portsmouth, England
4. Ann Pafford b. 1767 in Portsmouth. She was christened on 18 Nov 1767.
5. James Pafford (second son to be named after father; since the passing on of a given name was so important, after the 1st James died, they named another son after the father). (This is the line that the NC Paffords are from)
6. Betty Pafford was b. 1770 in Portsmouth.

5: James Pafford above is now called James Pafford II. He married a woman whose name is unknown. He received a Land Grant #7687 for 46 1/4 acres of land on 1 May 1849 in Benton Co., TN. The Land Grant #7687 is shown in Book 10, p. 831. The Tennessee Library & Archives, Card Index on NC & TN Land Grants, 11 Oct 1988, all on microfilm. He died before 1850 in Benton County, TN. He was buried before 1850 in Flatwoods Church Cemetery in an inmarked grave. They had the following children:

1. William C. Pafford (my line) b.1800 Stokes Co., NC. He m. Mourning Melton sister to Sarah Melton who married William's brother John who also lived in Benton Co., TN.
2. John Pafford was b. 24 Jun 1798 & m. Sarah Melton, sister to Mourning Melton.
3. Randolph Pafford
4. Thomas Pafford

There is much more in his book. I checked the book out of the Tennessee Genealogical Library recently. Mr. Ben Brewer who wrote the book is reachable through e-mail: Bb4222 (I believe this is an AOL address because this is all that appears on my printout of his e-mail message). If you do not reach him there I will give you his snail mail address. Let me know what you think on the lineage theory. Talk to ya' later....and oh yes, I found a note where we had talked once before.

Sandy

Mr. Phil T. Pafford
2755 Brandon Ave. SW Apt 73
Roanoke, VA 24015-3329

Dear Phil:

I do hope that you are the genealogy Phil that I knew long ago!! And I hope that you are still interested in your surname, PAFFORD.

Unfortunately, I have let my Pafford's just simmer for quite some time.

Then as it usually happens, to me anyway, someone writes me about a certain surname and off I go. Cora Ann Brown sent me a file of a compilation of June Anderson's work, and hers too, I guess. June, it seems has got the Pafford's back to a James Pafford, b Eng. m Martha Mathews 1760 in Portsmouth Parish, Portsea, Southampton Co., Eng.

The last I heard from June Anderson of TN was in Jan '91, I think. Is she still at the old address? Now that my memory is refreshed, I remember that I never could get a straight answer on why she called the Rev. War William of Stokes Co., NC, JAMES William. Do you know??

Now that you are located where you are, hope you are still digging for this surname.

Let me hear from you.

Dear Everyone: Phil Pafford, Dorothy Alread, Jeanne Glasgow, Cora Ann Brown, Vivian Jordan, Elva Stevens

Last year, I received letters from each of you and I've only been able to reply to one or two. Because of family illnesses, I just now have time to work on the Pafford history. Years ago, when I first began on the Pafford history, I was only interested in the Benton County settlers - John Franklin-1798 and William-1800. The more I found on them, the more I accumulated on the other Pafford lines. I wrote down everything and made note of most of the sources. A lot of the libraries did not have copy machines at that time, so I did not make copies of everything. I had hundreds of notes and some of your letters provided additional info that I didn't have. My two children live in Jackson, Tn. - a 70 mi. round trip, but each time I've been to Jackson the past 6 months, I've tried to accumulate more information about your lines from info at the Mormon Church and Jackson library. I found several new and important pieces of information. I've been compiling and typing all this month, and I can now furnish info without spending hours searching for it.

I have made chronological lists of early P. settlers and have found another John Parford/Pafford, whom I believe may be our '1' true ancestor. I also found additional info that conclusively removed "Loyalist" John from our direct line. I found the date of his first marriage - 6-5-1777, in Charleston S.C. He was married again in New York, NY in 1781. (James Wm.-born 1765-in England could not be his son.) I really hate to eliminate him, because he was such a great character! I guess we can still claim him as an "umpteenth cousin"! He was from the Hampshire county of England and from the records I found, it appears most of the Paffords came from Devon.

I've just obtained copies of 2 letters on microfilm from the Mormon Ch. mentioning that Susan Pafford Vick said her grandfather's name was James. Another letter notes that James was born 1765 in England and come to America in time to fight in the Rev. War. These letters were written by an elderly cousin who was the Benton Co. Historian. Another record from the N.C. Gen. Soc. lists James Pafford - born 1765- England-died Nash Co., N.C. and below it is listed the marriage of his son, Wm. 1800 to Mourning Melton. Both are from the same source. My Aunt Louise Pafford (Tilford), also gathered the name James William, born 1765, England, from older relatives when she made up a partial family history about 11 years, ago. (I have copies of all of the above references.) Many of Wm.'s (1800) & John's (1798) great-grandchildren were still living at the time my aunt wrote her history and one great-granddaughter lived just across the street from her. Gussie just died last year at age 96. Another died in 1989 at age 96. I was hoping that my Aunt Louise would have the family Bible of my G. Grandfather, David Dare Pafford, but my Father checked with her and the Bible apparently no longer exists. I only know of one existing family Bible dating back to the mid-1800's. It belonged to James B. Pafford, who died in the Civil War. There exists a picture of him holding this Bible and I have a copy of the picture. The Bible is very crumbly. His descendants asked for copies of the Benton Co. Paffords so they could sort the info listed in a number of pages. That was nearly 3 years, ago, and I am still waiting for the info. I asked them about it at one time and they still had not worked on it. I'm going to have to contact them, again. They now live in Gibson Co. - my 'home' county, so I may have to try to do it myself.

The Mormon Ch. had a long list of Paffords dating back to 1613 in Devon Co., England. I found a Thomas P. who married Alice Triggs on 6-24-64, in Exeter, St. Mary Arches Parish. I wonder if this is the Thomas (Reynolds) Pafford sentenced in 1688!

I carefully went through the census info over a number of years and assigned D.O.B. and ages to as many people as possible. When I did that, I identified new children who had not been counted before. I believe I have identified some of the children by matching approximate dates-of-birth, and known dates-of-birth.

I've prepared a tentative family tree with all the available info on the earliest Paffords that I've found. James Wm. actually had 11 children - 6 girls and 5 boys. A rough map shows where the Paffords lived. I've tried to go into considerable detail on the family sheets. I've also grouped the family info by state. When Phil moves back to Marion, Va., this should help him in his research. Phil, I'm counting on you!

I am still working on Randolph and Thomas and if any of you have new info, I'd like to hear from you. Write me when you get a chance!

Sincerely, June

June Anderson, 120 Crestwood Lane, Lexington, Tenn. 38351

"LOYALIST" JOHN PAFFORD

This John Pafford was a bricklayer who went to America in 1774 from Hampshire, England. He went to Charleston, South Carolina, where he was a bricklayer and owned a brickyard. He accumulated considerable property.  (see below)

In 1779, he refused to bear arms against the English. He was then accused of being a British "loyalist" by the American rebels and he was first imprisoned in Charleston from May 20, 1779 to February 20, 1780 (40 weeks and 3 days) and he was again imprisoned on May 12, 1780, for 13 weeks. His properties were confiscated and he was banished.

On December 16, 1780, John was in Kingston, Jamaica, asking the English Court for reimbursement of lost properties.

On August 22, 1781, John's wife and family and two negroes were taken on board a rebel ship and taken from Charleston to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. John followed them and was thrown in prison as a spy. He was released and asked for food for his family until he could return to Charleston. He says one of his negroes is in New York. John and his family are apparently also in New York because his letter is to/ and from, the Commandant of New York.

Four days later, August 27, 1781, John Pafford, bricklayer, New York, married Ann Florentine, widow. (This makes it appear that John was not legally married and to gain help for his family, he made everything legal.) She was wife # 2.

March 12, 1784, John Pafford left his wife and two children in America, and he was in London, England, trying to get compensation for the properties he lost during the American Revolution. He was refused and was rather chastised by the English Court of Law.

NOTE: This John Pafford could not be the father of James William Pafford, born 1765, in England.

The correspondent from Devon, England, who mailed copies of John's legal papers to Phil Pafford, found 3 listings for John Pafford in the register of the _____ Parish Church. This church is in Hampshire and is just a few miles from Portsmouth. (I could not make out the name of the church and town - same name.) The names are:

1722 - John - son of Phillip and ? Pafford
1726 - John - son of John and Sarah Pafford
1740 - John - son of Phillip and ? Pafford

The Paffords in this parish had a brickmaking business. If the 1740 John was the "loyalist" John, he would have been 34 years old when he came to America in 1774.

Question - What happened to "loyalist" John? Is he listed in any South Carolina records after 1790? He was not listed in the 1790 Census of South Carolina or anywhere else that I could find.

 South Carolina records at the Mormon Church show that John Pafford married Hannah Marshall on 6-5-1777, at Saint Philip's Church, Charleston, S.C. Either wife could have been the mother of the two children mentioned. She apparently died before August of 1781, when John remarried.

OTHER PAFFORDS IN NORTH CAROLINA - OTHER THAN JAMES WILLIAM PAFFORD

STATE CENSUS OF NORTH CAROLINA 1784-1787 Library #929.3R

John Parford - Blackburn's District, Surrey Co., North Carolina
Stokes Co. was later formed from Surrey Co.

1 Male - 21-60 years

2 W. females - all ages (This may be a wife and 1 daughter, perhaps Rachel - born 1777 - age 7)

(We know that this family was counted prior to May of 1786, because Surrey Co. Court records, show John Parford/Pafford died before then. Parford and Pafford names are used interchangeably.)

On May 9, 1786, Surrey Co. Court records show a Samuel Pafford, born March 14, 1766, age 20, orphan of John Pafford of Surrey Co. N.C., bound over to James Davis. (Was to receive some schooling and probably some work training.)

Note: James William Pafford, born 1765 - one year before Samuel - was an apprentice boy to the Father of James Davis in 1780, before joining the Continental Army in 1781. See 1800 Census on Samuel Pafford and family.

Surrey County Court records show that on August 17, 1786, Rachel, born 1777, 9 yr. old daughter of John Parford, placed in custody of Jessie McAnally. To receive training probably as household help.

According to information from Ray Pafford's book, he found where a Rachel Pafford, born 1774, in N.C. or S.C., married a Christian Smith, Jr., b 1774 in North Carolina. Christian Smith, Sr., lived in Stokes Co., N.C., at one time. Christian Smith, Jr. died in Harris Co., Texas, on May 2, 1839.

I found another cryptic query on Rachel that just said "Rachel Pafford -1774".

If 1774 is the correct date of Rachel's birth, she would have been 12 years old in 1786.

JOHN PARFORD

Could this John Parford - est born 1736 to 1741 be a brother to Thomas P. (born 1750 to 60) who came over in 1810?

Oldest + only Pafford / Parford in Surrey / Stokes Co., N.C. Census of Surrey Co. 1784 to 1787 He died early 1786.

was listed age 21/60 years in 1784-1786. Died early 1786. Probably no older than 45 to 50 at death. If James William Pafford was born 1765 in England, John may have been born 1736 to 1741, allowing a 20 to 25 year difference in their ages. Census in N.C., Surrey Co., in 1784-1787 listed: 1 Male - 21/60, 2 White females- all ages Court records show 20 year old son & 9 yr. old dau. in 1786.

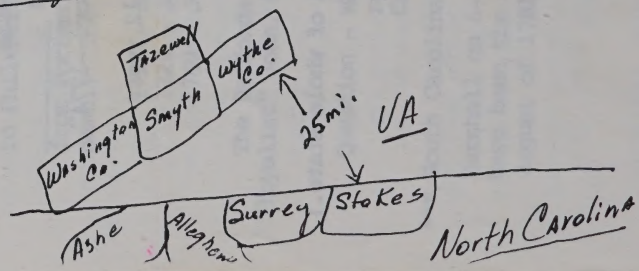
Thomas may be - father of Wm. P. who went to Wisconsin - Wm. was in Wythe Co, VA in 1830 + John Henry P. - b 1803 - was in Washington Co., VA in 1830



Note: In some other censuses, Samuel is listed as Samuel Spaford. Apparently, whoever took the census at those times was from a part of England where they often added an "S" in front of the name.

1850 CENSUS OF TAZEWELL CO., VIRGINIA AND ALSO IN INDEX

Samuel Pafford, 80 year old pauper, born N.C., 1766 - 1770, is shown living in the household of Andrew Martin, a 51 year old farmer, born VA, and wife, Temple Martin, 48 years old, born in VA. Temple is probably a daughter of Samuel, born 1802. (Samuel's age is listed as 80, but if he was born in 1766, as shown earlier, he would be 84.)

Important note: Samuel was living in North Carolina in 1800, but he was living in Virginia in 1802, when this Temple was born, and I am assuming that she is his daughter. If this is the case, he is not the father of John Henry Pafford, born 1803 in North Carolina.

THOMAS PAFFORD IN STOKES COUNTY, NORTH CAROLINA

YEAR 1794, 1795 A Thomas Pafford is listed in two property sales as owning land prior to 1794. These property sales show the land as adjoining Thomas Pafford's property.

In the 1810 Census of North Carolina, there may be three Thomas Pafford families. I only found James William Pafford listed in the State Census, but in the 1810 Index to the 1810 Census of North Carolina, in a section of the book 'names gathered from other sources', Thomas Pafford is listed with the numbers 535, 613, 615 - all of Stokes Co., North Carolina.

Samuel Paford from Cumberland Co., #579 is listed. William Pafford from Stokes Co. is listed. (All were listed in the Index, but as noted above, James William was the only one listed in the State Census Book.) This just goes to show how much is often left out of what should be the main source available to most researchers.

Dorothy Alread, who obtained information from the 1810 Census of Stokes County, N.C., also found another Thomas Pafford, Page 109. This information was not completed on the sheet I received.

One of these may have been the Thomas Pafford who eventually settled in DeKalb County, Tennessee, prior to 1820. The following Thomas Pafford family is not the Thomas Pafford family who went to DeKalb County, Tennessee. From the dates of birth, I believe this may be one of the sons born to James William Pafford in 1784 or 1785.

1810 CENSUS OF STOKES CO., NORTH CAROLINA, PAGE 151

1 female - under 10	(b 1800-1810)

 One of these sons is unmarried and is still living with James William Pafford in 1810.

So far, this is the only Pafford I have found that had sons born in the time period of 1800-1810, who are not identified. One of these sons could possibly be John Henry Pafford, born 1803. The other one could possibly be the William Pafford of Wythe Co, VA, who is listed in the 1830 Census of Wythe Co, VA. IF, and I repeat, IF, this would be a direct link to James William Pafford, born 1765, in England, and also Revolutionary War soldier/drummer boy.

DETAILED CENSUS INFORMATION ON JAMES WILLIAM PAFFORD

Note: Some information is listed James Pafford and some is listed William Pafford, so I call him James William Pafford to separate him from his son William. I believe he was called James by a lot of his family for the very same reason.

James William was illiterate and all papers are signed 'William Pafford' and marked with his 'X'.

1790 CENSUS OF NORTH CAROLINA

James William Pafford, born 1765, joined the Continental Army at age 16, in 1781. He was discharged in 1783 and would have been age 17 or 18. I do not believe he would have fathered any children before 1783, and age brackets of children seem to confirm this. According to ages listed on later censuses, I have listed approximate ages for the children of James William Pafford and Wife #1.

Census records indicate he had 11 known children in this order: Male, Male, Female, Female, Female, Female, Female, Male, Male, Male, Female. All children except the last female are apparently children of Wife #1. The last female is the daughter of Wife #3 - Haney Mabe Bulling Pafford. Apparently no children were born to Wife #2, or either they died at a very young age. The family is listed in the 1790 Census as follows:

William Pafford (born 1765 - age 25)
Wife # 1 (estimate age as 24)

2 Males under age 16 (1 would be born about 1784 and 1 in 1785)	1. Male - born 1784 - age 6 2. Male - born 1785 - age 5
4 Females Estimate born in 1786, 1787, 1788 & 1789	3. Female - born 1786 - age 4 4. Female - born 1787 - age 3 5. Female - born 1788 - age 2 6. Female - born 1789 - age 1

1800 CENSUS OF STOKES CO., NORTH CAROLINA

Wife #1 - 1 free white female - 45 & upwards (believe wrong category - age 34)

Male #1 - 2 free white males - 16 and under 26 (age 16)
Male #2 (age 15)

The four daughters are not listed for some reason. They should be ages 12, 13, 14, and 15. There also should be listed a female who was born in 1794 and would now be 6 years old. She is shown in the 1810 Census as 16 years old. Unfortunately, there is no further trace of these daughters except for the one shown in the 1810 Census.

Before I go any further, I want to note that 15 different people may have published their version of the different local and State censuses and they vary greatly. One book may completely leave out many people, the next book may only give the barest details, and another may give all kinds of additional information. Some of the authors will make an 'a' into an 'o' resulting in the name changing from Pafford to Pofford, etc. You can never look enough, it seems. The most details are available in the individual census books of the counties, if you are able to find them published. I have found the state census books to be the poorest. In the books from several libraries, James William Pafford was the only Pafford listed. As additional information became available, I found other Paffords listed, and have been furnished additional information by Pafford descendants. Happily, as more and more people become interested in their ancestory, writers are sorting through dusty old records and publishing their findings. I've found that working on this record is just like being a housewife, there is alway something else to be done. That is certainly true when searching for information that is several hundred years old. What seems cut-and-dried, today, turns out to be all-wet tomorrow.

1 male - 10 and under 16 (John Franklin - born 1798 - age 12)

1839 William Pafford, age 74, married Haney Mabe Bulling, a widow, on March 3, 1839, in Stokes Co., North Carolina. He and Haney had one daughter, Politha. She was probably born in 1840 or 1841. Politha married Andrew J. Duggins on October 4, 1855. She would have been 14 or 15 years of age at that time.

1840 CENSUS OF NORTH CAROLINA — V's acts different - Stokes Co. 2 sons - 2 dau + Wife Rev. Sold

A William Pafford is listed in Tyrell County, North Carolina. This is on the East coast of North Carolina. This may well be our James William because he is not listed in Stokes County, North Carolina. A detailed census from this county would probably give more information. No family is listed, but James William, Haney, and Politha are all alive.

1848 James William Pafford died September 20/23, 1848, and was supposedly buried in Nash County, North Carolina. I wondered about this, but his son, John Franklin - b 1798, and his son, William - born 1800, married daughters of Cooper Melton and Cooper Melton and family lived in Nash County at one time. The families had to have met at some time or other.

According to old records found in a box in the North Carolina State Archives, by Vivian Jordan of Houston, Texas, William was labeled a "lunatic" and was placed under the guardianship of John and James Mabe. These papers also indicated that James William died before March of 1849. Tyrell Co., N.C., is still a rather desolate area of North Carolina, and James William may have been placed in an 'insane asylum' located there. That might also account for his being buried in Nash County, rather than Stokes. Haney and Politha continued to live in Stokes County, 'seven miles E. of the courthouse." Haney died April 8, 1864. (Nash Co. is half-way between Stokes & Tyrell Co.)

I do not know much about Politha, but many of the Brewer families in Benton County are her descendants. There is a book on the Pafford and Brewer families that was written by one of her descendants, but I have not traced their lineage and how they got to Benton County. This book does mention John and William Pafford, who came to Benton County, and notes that James William Pafford and Haney were parents of Politha.

THE TWO JOHN HENRY PAFFORD FAMILIES IN VIRGINIA

Since I first had information on this family in 1990, I was not satisfied with all the information, because some of it seemed to conflict and not fit in as it should. I've done more research and believe this new information solves the conflict.

The Mormon Church has information on families grouped different ways. Some of it is simply alphabetical and some of it is listed by state. I pulled a microfiche on Virginia and looked for Paffords. There was only one item listed on it and it was just what I was looking for.

"John Pafford married Sarah Ann Thompson in Washington County, Virginia, on May 17, 1823." (Washington County is now next to Smyth Co. and was probably divided into Smyth County at a later date.) Note: If this John was about 20 years old when he married, he would have been born in 1803.

The 1830 Census Index of Virginia shows John Pafford #275 of Washington Co., Va.

Now, another surprise; your family history only lists 6 children. He had 12 children before 1850, and might have had more. The family was listed on another card at the Mormon Library with information taken from the 1850 Census of Virginia, source #7009114.

In 1850, John (b 1803) would have been age 47 and his wife (D.O.B. unknown) was probably close to the same age as her husband. They lived in the 217 Dist. of Smyth Co. in 1850.

Children are:	William T. - 26	(b 1824 - figured from age at time of Census)
	James P. - 25	(b 1825)
	Mary J. - 22	(b 1828)
	Susanah E. - 19	(b 1831)
	John H. - 17	(b 1833)	This is John Henry, born 4-20-1832
	Robert H. - 15	(b 1835)
	Sarah Ann - 13	(b 1837)
	Thomas F. - 11	(b 1839)
	Elisa E. - 9	(b 1841)
	Nancy Catheryn - 7	(b 1843)
	Cynthia E. - 4	(b 1846)
	Minerva C. - 1	(b 1849)

Eliza, Elisa E. (called Louisa) married Samuel D. Cross on 9-9-1860 in Smyth Co., VA.

I do not know when or where John Henry and Sarah Ann Thompson Pafford died.

Their son, John Henry Pafford Jr. (b 4-20-1832 in Washington/Smyth Co., VA), married Martha Ann Hutton on March 26, 1856. He died at age 79/80 on January 16, 1913 in Smyth Co. He is buried in the Hutton Cemetary in Marion, Smyth Co., VA. Some of the above information was on his tombstone/per Vivian Jordan. Since you are familiar with his children, I am not listing them.

Quote from S. Mulhall's letter of May 1987 to Phil Pafford, "Another 'John' from Smyth Co. was married to MARTHA Ann Hutton in 1856; his father was another 'John' who was born about 1800 in N.C., married SarahAnn ???? in VA in 1832 (this is 23 reversed)--lived in Washington Co., VA. (Next to Smyth Co.") end quote

10 1/91 JPA

I made the mistake of picking up the name Sarah Ann Keyes. The notice that was jumbled up in another listing at the Mormon Church noted that the parents of John H. Pafford, born 1803, married to Martha Ann Hutton, were John Pafford and his mother was Sarah.

The following is where the name Sarah Keyes comes from:

1. John Pafford, born about 1850, died 1933 at age 73. He married Sarah Keyes, b 1853 - died 1925 at age 72 yr.

2. A William Pafford from Smyth Co. - married a Cox??

The above two items were noted in a letter from Shirley Mulhall.

Son	1 male under 5	(b 1825 to 1830)
Dau.	1 female under 5	(b 1825 to 1830)

This William Pafford may possibly be a son of Thomas Pafford who was shown in the 1810 Census of Stokes Co., N.C., to have 2 sons born during this time period. As stated earlier, the other son may possibly John Henry Pafford, who was born in Stokes Co., N.C. in 1803. I believe Thomas is one of the two oldest sons of James William Pafford (1765). These sons were born in 1784 and 1785. One of these sons was still living with James William in 1810 and apparently had not married at that time. Therefore, he does not complicate the picture by having children born before 1810.

According to Dorothy Alread, she found a William Pafford, born in N.C., from Virginia, who settled in Wisconsin before 1836.

Shirley Pafford Mulhall, formerly of Catonsville, M.D., wrote in a letter to Phil T. Pafford of Iowa, that she had corresponded with a James William Pafford of Beetown, Wisconsin. I don't know if she found out much from him, but he had a son and grandson - all named James William Pafford. (Incidentally, I wrote Shirley Mulhall and my letter was returned, marked that she no longer lived at 512 S. Rolling Road.) I would like to have her new address, if anyone has it.

Robert F.	B 1849
Margaret M (Mary)	B 1850
Sarah C.	B 1852
John H.	B 1854
Elizabeth C.	B 1858

(There is no way to know the date of birth of James M. Pafford. However, if he was about 20 years old when he first child was born, this would give him an estimated birth date of 1829.)

MISCELLANEOUS INFORMATION ON PAFFORDS IN VIRGINIA

1. The 1850 Census of Virginia shows a Mary Pafford, age 71 (b 1779) living in Smyth Co. Virginia. She is listed as a pauper - and she was born in Virginia. The 1850 Census Index shows her living (apparently alone) in Dist 212 of Smyth Co. Does anyone know who she is?

2. Others in 1850 Census Index of Virginia:

   John (believe this is one of the John Henry Paffords) Smyth Co. 217 Dist.
   William Pafford lives in 217 Dist. of Smyth Co.
   Mary Pafford (noted above) 212 Dist. of Smyth Co.

Dear Vivian -

I couldn't believe it when you said you had a copy of Poffard Settlers in America! I only gave a copy to my cousin Clara Nelle Morrisette, who sponsors the reunion each year. I gave a copy to her, so in case something happened to me & my copy, there would be something to start from, again. From that little beginning, I've now added many pages & a lot of revisions.

I hope these pages will answer some of your questions posed in your letter of 9/20/90.

Do you have access to the 1810 Censuses that might show what I have circled on Thomas Poffard's page? Would like detailed info on these "other" Thomas'. — Also, additional names of anyone(s) born Poffard before 1810.

Also, on a sheet from Ben Brewer listing Jas. Wm. Poffard's 'supposed' family - he foot-notes: Poffard Family Register - B.H.S. —

What does B.H.S. stand for?

If you can add anything else, I'd like to hear from you.

Am enclosing additional sheet of John & Wm's families.

Sincerely -

June

Thanks Vivian...I have been in touch with a descendent of Rowan Pafford, Jackson Pafford Brady of Atlanta. He sends me the newsletter, "The Pafford Connection" and keeps me informed on the reunion down there in Springhead. There is a Pafford church there I understand. There is also a book written by Mr. Ben Brewer on the Brewer line with other connections, one being the Pafford line. His ancestors are from Benton, Camden, Tn. and he is related through the Pafford & possibly the Brewer line. He states that the Paffords begins with the marriage of James Pafford of Portsmouth Parish, Portsea, Southampton County, England 24, April 1760. He married a Mary Matthew. They had: John, Thomas, William, & James Pafford & possibly some daughters. The bolded & underlined are the ones who came to Benton Co., TN. Have you seen this theory? If so what do you think? If not would love to correspond with you on this. Did you state how you relate to the Pafford line? Forgive my memory of late, computer has been giving us fits. Can't keep many things straight when trying to solve these kinds of problems. Talk to ya' later...Sandy

My Reconstruction of the Pafford family from NC, TN, VA

Vivian Jordan May 1987

Stokes Co.,NC

William in 1790 Census has 2 malesunder 16; 5 females (1 is wife??)

William 1800 has 2 males 16-26; 1 female 45+ (a wife??)

William 1810 has 1 m 26-45 1 f 45+ (wife??)
1 m 10-16 1 f 10-16
2 m -10 1 f -10

Theory: The 2 males, 16-26 yrs in 1800 could be the Thomas 26-45 in Germantown and the Thomas in Sauratown that were in 1810 with almost identical families. The similarity of family age grouping makes me lean strongly to the fact that it is one man, some how enumerated twice!!

The 1 m 10-16 could be my John b ca 1800

William 1820 has no children enumerated, just female, prob. a wife

Thomas 1820 is 45+ in Warren Co., TN. It is his son, James, who takes the mules to GEorgis to sell and dies there. Thomas could be a brother to William

George 1820 45+ who could also be a brother to William. George has a son the right age to be my John,1800. George disappears from the census unless he is the older male, living with my John in 1830 (VA)

UNFORTUNATELY, THE TN CENSUS FOR 1810 & 1820 IS NOT COMPLETE, SO THAT LEAVES A GAPE

William 1830 is now listed 60-70 yrs, in Stokes Co., NC his 2nd wife and no children.

John 1830 is in Washington Co.,VA 30-40 with a male 50-60. This could be the George of 1820 and perhaps John's father

Thomas 1840 in DeKalb Co.,TN is 70-80. Probably the same Thomas in 1820 Warren Co.,TN and could be a brother to William

I found web sites last night for Smyth County, Va. I found two brothers Robert and John Pafford whose parents were John and Sarah Pafford. Which John Pafford are you speaking of? I think Robert Pafford may be my husband's g-g-grandfather. Where do you live? We live in Delaware. My husband's father and aunt and uncles have a family reunion in Marion,Va every year in May. There is a farm house outside of Marion, Va that Chris' g-grandfather built that has been repaired by the current owners and made into a small museum on the old farm. It is really wonderful. Have you ever been to Marion? I know of two cemetaries there where the Paffords are buried-the Rose Lawn and the Wassum. I plan go early before the reunion this year and get some pictures of the area. I am new to these family tree researches.

Hi!

There isn't much in the book on PAFFORD, only in the poem at the beginning of the book. However, this will give you a time frame of where to look in Hampshire for Pafford. The poem is anonymous, but is dated by the reference to the Rev. Longlands. Thomas Longlands was the Vicar of Portchester from 1805 to 1856.

The people of Portchester, above other places
Are all uncommonly plain in their faces.
To begin with the parson, his name is Longlands,
His face is quite ugly, and snuffy his hands,
And then there's the doctor, who if we speak truth
Is not handsome now, if he was in his youth.
If in want of a dinner, we've plenty of cheer,
There's Salmon and Whiting, and Fowles and Deer.
If some folks are poor, the rich ones should club
You'll soon find a Cooke, and plenty of Grubb.
Down Hospital Lane, lives Mrs. Periera.
On the opposite side, lives old Billy and Sarah.
There's Collet the clerk, gravedigger and sexton
And for digging the garden, John Martell's the best one.
There's Hunt the brewer, just where the roads cross.
On the opposite side, lives old Mrs. Moss.
There's Mrs. MacDonald, Misses Pafford and Mew.
We're tired of writing, so we'll bid you adieu.

Sorry I cannot be of more help. I will be in Portchester later this year and fully intend to look for my ancestors in the churchyard there. If I come across any Paffords, I will copy the inscriptions.

Best wishes,

Joan

You must be talking about Jackson Pafford Brady when you talk about the descendent of Rowan Pafford! I keep in touch with him as much as possible. The thing I think may have happened regarding the Civil War questionaire stating James as the ancestor, is that the James in GA may be the father to (2) families. The James in GA once lived in TN and the other thing that is very odd is that there are a great number of CORBITTs in Benton Co. TN. Interesting, huh? Nothing has ever been proved along this line (just my thoughts since I have never come across another James during that time frame), but I will keep an open mind just in case this may be the case. I, too, found a lot of people who wanted me to share with them but never reciprocated. Give me a little while to gather the info together. I take care of one of my grandsons while his mother works (1 yr old) (I'm too old for this) and we have a marriage coming up soon (April 12 - our last (4th) son will be married then & I have a rehearsal dinner to plan, plus I am on a deadline to get the Tenn. Genealogical Newsletter here in Memphis ready for the printers (I am the editor). I will send the info but it may take me a few days. Please send me your family tree so that I may be on the look out for info for you. I may already have something in all the bankers boxes of copies that I have amassed while researching my lines. Stay in touch online & by E-Mail & I will do the same. There aren't many of us out there searching for this name.

Jesus Please

Monday Evening-September 14, 1998

Thank you for sending me all of the family information you did. I really appreciate it. I, in turn, took a copy of the things you sent me and filled in all I could from what I have here. I certainly am not "up" on much but maybe this will help a little.

I hope you are feeling much better by this time. When a person doesn't feel up to par, it's hard to keep up the pace, isn't it? I find that a lot lately.

Last weekend one of my grandsons was married in Minnesota so I was away from home two nights. I got home about 10:45 yesterday morning. It was a beautiful wedding. This makes my 9th grandchild to be married now. I'm waiting now for a new great-grandchild any day now. That will make 15 in all.

Well, the North Western Airpline has settled the strike so guess Rosie and I will be able to leave on the 23rd for Dallas. I hope so. Bev called me this morning and is anxiously awaiting our arrival. She said they haven't had any rain there yet except for a couple of little showers lately. I see by the T.V. that Houston has had some flooding....I hope you aren't in that district.

Must go. Thanks again and hope the little bit I gave you will help.

Love, Mildred

Thomas and Nanny Saunders Pafford are listed in the Register of Kingston, Jamacia as Thomas, b. 1761 and Nanny, b. 1763. They went to the West Indies in 1789 or 1790. By 1797, they had returned to England.It appears that Nanny died after the birth of Samuel in 1799/1800 and Thomas left for Stokes Co, NC, in America, where his brother, James William Pafford was already living. Property and census records show them living next door to each other.

Records show that Thomas married almost immediately after arriving in America. The book, "Marrige of Some American Residents", Guide to Documents - Vol. 1, page 61 shows the following: (listed like this)

1) Pafford, Thomas of North Carolina - Nancy, b. 1770 Virginia

Dear Vivian.

I am sure we must be cousins. How many generations apart I have no idea. Maybe we can find out.

I am Beryl Pafford-Vernon I was born in Knoxville, Tn. Also lived in Marion, Va. We came to Pa. in 1935.

I am trying to put together some family history for my family- two sons and wifes, four grandchildren and four great grand children.

I have just read a letter you wrote to Janet Dec. 8, 1984.

John H. Pafford b. 1800 in Stokes Co. N.C. and Sarah Ann Thompson b. 1805 m. in 1832- Lived in Wash-

Wrote 12 June 99 ? Thompson =

Mary Ann Hutton b. abt. 1823

They all served in World War II.
We are the only whole family still

Elizabeth McCoskey -

I had never known that I was related to Huttons until I started this research several years ago. All I knew was Dafford and Keyes.

I am looking forward to hearing who your parents

It will be so interesting to know and try to figure out what Cousins we are.

I don't know who Robert Hutton's wife Mary Ann, born 1807 was.

Anything you can tell me about the Paffords will be greatly appreciated.

Ask me any questions you have, I will be happy to answer them if I can.

You are the first Paffford I have written to, who lives in Texas.

The Paffords passed the same names down from generation to generation. Makes it very confusing.

I will be waiting for an answer.

Wishing you and yours a happy Thanksgiving.

Dear Vivian,

I sent to you the information about my great-grandfather & his father. Did that answer the question you asked about John being married to a "Thompson"? The only Thompson I know was a cute red-head I dated in college; when she & I graduated (William & Mary '51) she married a car salesman & I lost track of her.

My great-grandfather, who fought in the Civil War in Jubal Early's Corp, was married to Martha Ann Hutton & his father, also named John, was married to Mary Ellen Blackard. There are lots of both Huttons and Blackards in Virginia.

Let me know how you are doing with your research.

Best to you & yours,

Phil T. Pafford

Dear Mrs. Vize:

I saw your add in the Helper. I know the Pafford line is not your main line, but thought you might want to have the enclosed information if you don't already.

The gentleman who wrote A Pafford Line in Review was well up in years when last we corresponded. His little book really isn't much af a genealogical history, just notes of his Georgia family of Paffords.

My great grandmother was a Pafford, so I would be most appreciative if you would refer to me, any Pafford researchers who contact you. It is a name not found too much. The earliest I have found is a Thomas Pafford in 1688 from England.

My Paffords are in Smythe and Wythe Cos,VA and then before that in N.C. There are many Paffords in Benton Co., TN also, with the oldest ones, on the Census' saying that they were from N.C.

I plan, some day to put into book form what I have on this line. If you wish, you could send your family group sheets, with the Pafford connection and I will place it in my files for the future.

Good hunting.

Dear Vivian,

I was very glad to get your letter on Pafford. Thank you for sending me the copy from the book. I have located a copy for myself also. This is my direct line that is written about in the book.

It sounds like you have researched the Pafford line for a long time. I would appreciate you referring anyone you run across who is researching my line to write to me.

I have several Pafford researchers that I have written to over several years. I think some of them are researching your lines. You may have heard from some, but hopefully they will be new to you.

I was really interested in the fact that you plan to put your research into book form. I am sending you my family group sheets. As the time draws nearer to writing the book, please write me back, and I will send updated forms at that time.

I am working on this family right now, and plan to continue, so I should have more information as time goes by.

Joseph James BOON(E) & Hester Sarah PAFFORD were my gr-grandparents.

We may have a Tenn. connection someplace, as Rowan was b in TN. If you run across anything new please let me know.

Dear Miss Smith:

I have received your letter and while at home with a knee injury, I thought I had better answer while I could. I work full time and sometimes it is awhile before I am able to answer my mail.

I am very interested in the Pafford family. A name that you don't run up against every day of the week!

From the very little that you gave me to go on, it doesn't not seem that I can help materially until you have got your people traced back into Virginia in the 1830's, Smythe Co.

My Paffords appear to be in North Carolina in the early 1800's and then came into Va. soon after.

I believe that as you go back in time on your family, you will find that your Paffords came from N. C. also. The times that I have run any records on Benton, Hamilton or DeKalb Cos, TN, the older people in the census all say that they were born in N. C.

There is a group of Paffords in GEorgia...all the older people say that they were born in TN.!! There is a large land grant in south Texas that back in the 1830's or 40's was granted to a Pafford from Tenn. I've never been able to make a connection.

When you haveedone some research on your family and can give me some 19th century names, dates and places, perhaps my files will produce something.

Good Luck in your research.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Jordan,

I recently started tracing back my family history. While at the Memphis Main library, I came across the fact that you are interested in the same family name. My father's name was John A. Pafford and was born in Carroll Co., Tenn. in 1919.

I would really appreciate any information you can share with me, and hope to hear from you soon.

Thank you,

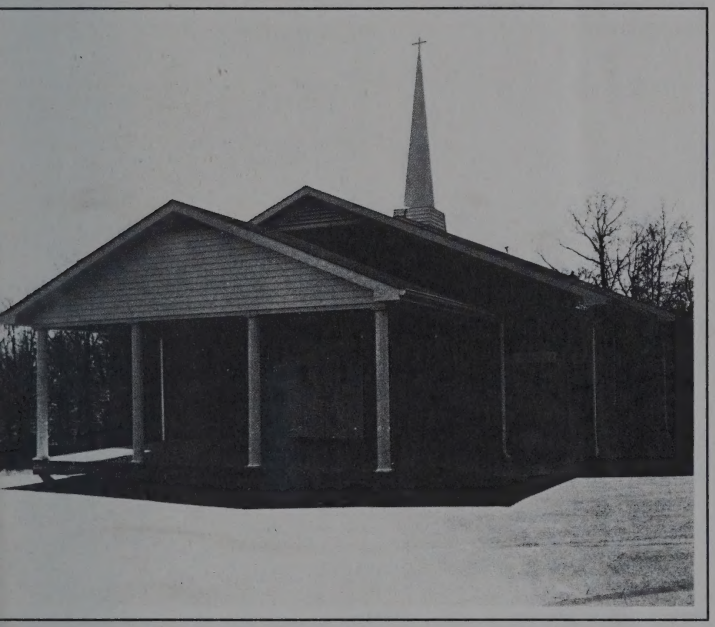
FLATWOODS UNITED METHODIST



Flatwoods United Methodist Church is ated approximately eight miles theast of Camden on Flatwoods Road. s one of the oldest churches in Benton unty, TN; having been organized in 4 by Rev. John Pafford (1798-1851), one he pioneer settlers and ministers of ton County.

Rev. John Pafford was born in NC. He, h his older brother William, came to at is now Benton County in 1819 or ly 1820's. Prior to 1836, this area was art of Humphrey's and Henry unties.

The church was organized in the home William Pafford with the help of his e, Mourning Melton Pafford.

This congregation has built five church ldings since being organized. The first s an old rough pioneer building located he old Flatwods Cemetery near the ve of Rev. John Pafford.

The second building was built of hewn s, near the south end of this cemetery. as built between the years of 1840 and 5 and served for about 40 years before ng torn down and replaced.

The third building was a frame cture, built in 1883. It burned in Feb. 7, having served for 44 years.

n the same year, a concrete block rch building was erected. It was troyed by fire on Dec. 3, 1980, having n added on to in 1955 and again in

Members of the 1927 building committee were W.E. Pafford, Claud Melton, J.T. Cuff, W.B. Warrick, and C.W. Wright.

The fifth church building, a brick veneer with basement, was erected in early 1981. The building committee members were Gerald Berry, Ernie Cherry, Fred Cuff, W. G. Pafford, Jimmy Townsend, and Betty Walters. Gerald Berry designed the building plan. The building was completely debt-free when the first service was held in it on June 14, 1981.

The first deed to the trustees of Flatwoods Methodist Church, a two-acre lot was made by Rev. John Pafford. It was not recorded and was later lost. In 1867, John Wesley Melton and Joseph Melton sold the church house and two acres of land to Asbury Cuff and R.C. Pafford for $200. They were the church trustees.

The large cemetery, known as the new cemetery and consisting of two acres was deeded to the church in 1883 by William Riley Warrick and wife Mary Pafford Warrick. Later, H.K. Pafford gave more land for this cemetery.

Eight ministers of the Methodist Church have come from Flatwoods. The were Virgil Pafford, Bob Pafford, Ray Pafford, W.T. Pafford, Knox Pafford, Warner Pafford, A.G. Melton and James Flatwoods has always been a circuit church, meaning that it has shared a minister with one or more other congregations.

In previous years it has been on the Sandy Circuit, Big Sandy Circuit, East and South Big Sandy Circuit, North Camden Circuit and the Camden Circuit. Flatwoods, for several years was an 8-point circuit, then went to a 4-point circuit for several years. In 1982, it became a 2-point circuit with Eva United Methodist Church, called the Eva-Flatwoods Circuit.

Since 1824, Flatwoods has been in the Forked Deer District of the Tennessee Conference, the Paris, Jackson, Trenton, McKenzie and Lexington Districts. Since 1917 it has been a part of the Lexington District.

In early years a pastor would usually serve only one year at a time. It was not until the early 1900's that the practice of staying 2-3 years or more became common.

In the beginning, annual conference was held in Nov. with the pastors going to their new circuit in Jan. of the following year. In 1948, conference began meeting in June with pastors moving in mid-June.

Over the years Flatwoods has had several auxiliary organizations. Among these are the Methodist Men, the Methodist Youth Fellowship and the Methodist Women.

The only group that is still active at the church is the women's group which was organized in the 1930's known as the Women's Missionary Society, and has remained active to this date with a current membership of 15. In 1972 the present name of United Methodist Women was adopted. This is also the time that Flatwoods and other Methodist churches became known as "United Methodist."

Flatwoods does have a youth group which meets occasionally, but is not known as the Methodist Youth Fellowship.

Flatwoods has a membership of 120 with approximately 65 active members who attend regularly.

Flatwoods holds yearly summer revivals. It is generally held beginning the second Sunday in Aug. In the earlier years revival services would be all day serviced with dinner "on the ground."

Flatwoods annual homecoming has for years been held on the second Sunday in May, Mother's Day.

Present Pastor Rev. Orville C. King Jr.

Nolen Pafford and Fleta Craig were united in marriage on June 24, 1922. Nolen was born May 31, 1900. He was the son of Oscar Neal Pafford and Julia (Totty) Pafford. His father Oscar Neal was the son of David and Delphia Herndon Paffordwho owned extensive acreage in the tenth civil district of Benton County. David and Delphia reared their four sons and two daughters in an area now called Happy Hollow, this included Pilot Knob or now known as Nathan Bedford Forest State Park. David's Funeral was held on top of Pilot Knob long before this land was cleared.

Oscar and Julia or Julie were blessed seven children, five sons and two daughters. Ross and Garvey, Nole, David B. and Harold. The daughters were Corinia and Jennie.

Nolen spent his childhood in the community known as Chestnut Hill; which was a portion of acreage belonging to his grandfather David. The family made a living by raising corn in the Tennessee River Bottom, and other crops of cotton, sorghum, potatoes, and vegetables around their homeplace, which was on higher ground. They traveled to the bottom land by horse drawn vehicles over what was called Dug Hill. They were a happy family living in what would now be called the poverty level but the family never realized that too many good things surrounded them.

Nolen and Fleta Pafford

Fleta Craig Pafford was the daughter of Wyly and Ida Black Craig. She was born Aug. 24, 1904. Fleta's father and mother came to Benton County from a country to the west. They settled in the Beaverdam Community in the tenth civil district of Benton County.

Mr. and Mrs. Craig's family consisted of ten children. They farmed land along Beaverdam Creek. The children attended school at Old Beaversdam, Rocky Holly, Chestnut Hill, and Pembroke.

Nolen's mother Julia passed away when the children of Nolen and Fleta were very young. Nolen and Fleta continued to live with Nolen's father, Oscar. Fleta was a very young loving daughter-in-law, taking wonderful care of Julia during her illness. After her death she cared for Mr. Oscar as she called him, as if he were her own father. Fleta was very strong in her convictions of the teachings of the Bible. She was a faithful member of Beaverdam Church of Christ. They also attended Chestnut Hill Church.

He also enjoyed riding his mule to perform a wedding. Also this need to be remembered in the history of Benton County, He and his brother Marshall deserve the credit of establishing a High School in the tenth district which was located in Eva, TN.

After three had left, Mae, with the two younger ones, came back to Benton County to live until her death on June 14, 1932. She is buried in Flatwoods Methodist Cemetery.

The girls married local boys and continued to live in Benton County. There were eleven grandchildren.

Since the family had never gone back to Blackton, AR, on Oct. 6, 1983, two of the sisters, some of the grandchildren, and one great grandchild went back, finding the grave sites of their father and brother.

Only one of the girls and ten grandchildren are still living. Four live in Benton County. Three granddaughters, Ruth Dowdy, Clara Nell Morisette, and Naomi Bridges have served Benton County by holding public positions.

There is a certain pathos connected with the changes that have come about in the personnel of the population during the past fourscore years. For instance, a leading family of Liberty in other days was that of Gossett; there is now not a person of the name in the village or in the county. The Dales, as shown, have also disappeared from the town.

Mrs. Rachel Payne wrote in 1914:

I well remember the Liberty of sixty-two years ago, my father, Frederick Jones, having bought Duncan Tavern in 1843. In that year the first schoolhouse was built, not far from the Methodist church. Mr. Chambers was the first teacher in it. I was one of the later pupils. Most of the houses were of logs back then. I went to school in the log church that stood by the graveyard. The seats were split logs, with holes in them for the insertion of legs. The first person buried in Salem graveyard was Major Lamberson's girl, Martha. Nearly all the old-time people are gone to their reward. Aunt Polly Youngblood is the oldest resident. She was a Miss Avant, of Dismal Creek. I was only six months old when she became the wife of William Youngblood, and I was sixty-eight years old September 23, 1913. There were about thirty houses in Liberty when I was a child, and nearly all the public travel was by stagecoach.

In a gossipy letter Dr. Foster names some of the residents of about 1850: Mr. Dean (blacksmith), Dr. J. R. Dougherty, Joshua Bratten and his son James, Dr. J. H. Fuson, Dr. J. A. Baird, Aunt Sallie Bratten, Len Moore, Bill Thompson (blacksmith), Jim Crook (wagon maker), Leonard and Clint Lamberson, William Youngblood, Dr. G. C. Flowers, Isaac Whaley, Tom Price, Elijah Strong, J. P., Bob, Hilary, and other Dales, Frederick Jones (tailor), W. G. Foster, Arthur Worley, U. D. Gossett, Ben Blades, Eli Vick, Seth Whaley, James Hollandsworth, John Woodsides, William Gothard, Bill Avant (tanner), John Evans, John Reid, and John Perryman. Dr. Foster adds:

I can see other things as I look back to Liberty: Aunt Polly Blades's ginger cakes, set on a little shelf as a sign; Aunt Hettie Bratten selling good whisky for ten cents a quart; Dr. Flowers's John with his bowlegs; Jim Crook and his legs; Alex Bayne and his snow-white steers; and Sam Wooden as he hits and raises a knot on Bill Pack's head. I go around to Reuben Evans's farm and see his sons, Ed, Will, Ike, Mose, and Jim, and his daughters, Nancy, Matilda, and Martha, and his wife, Aunt Clara, as well as a dog named Danger, that bit Jim Youngblood on the hindmost part. Likewise I see old Dr. Tilman Bethel and his black horse and his sons, Chess, Greene, Blue, Fayette, and John; Louis Vick, Jim Bratten, and Clint Lamberson (the last three died when yet young men). Then I look on Polly Stanley, the best "fisherman" with a pole and line in the county and a good fiddler; Sam Barger, fat and squat, who wore his shoes when he rode to Liberty, but came barefooted when he walked. Coming on down several years, I was in the village the night Montillius Richardson died. That was after the battle of Fishing Creek, and I was on furlough. (I belonged to the Fifteenth Mississippi Confederate Regiment.) Sixty-five years ago, when I was a ten-year-old boy, changes were going on, of course. The physicians were George C. Flowers, E. Wright, John A. Baird, Horace Sneed, Samuel Little, J. A. Fuson, and J. R. Dougherty, with Tilman Bethel, a steam doctor, living a mile or two west. The magistrates for that district were Reuben Evans and Joe Clarke. The constables were William Blackburn and Josiah Youngblood. Church Anderson was one of the merchants. The blacksmiths were Bill Thompson and Greene Perryman, but preceding them were Goolsberry Blades and a man named Brooks. Later smiths were W. G. Evans and Bill Givan; miller, "Chunky" Joe Hays (who was not chunky), his wife being Aunt Sukey, mother of Mrs. William Blackburn; shoemaker, John Woodside; saddlers, W. G. Foster, U. D. Gossett, John A. Carroll, George Warren, G. F. Bowers, and others; saloon keeper, James G. Fuston; cabinet workmen, James Hollandsworth, Bob Burton, and Isaac Whaley; brickmason, Berry Driver; tailors, Joe Perryman and Len Moore. The Lamberson boys were also millers, running the old Dale water mill. Liberty had a horse saw mill and a rope factory—the latter about where the tanyard was afterwards. Wagon makers were Jim Crook and Perry Wells. Perry and Jim Wells put up a store on Dismal Creek after the Clay and Frelinghuysen canvass, and some one got off this doggerel:

"Hurrah! hurrah! the country's risin';
Perry and Jim are merchandisin'.
One sells liquor, and t'other sells goods;
And when they start home—get lost in the woods!"

Liberty was incorporated January 17, 1850. The boundaries were: Beginning at a sour oak near Leonard Lamberson's wellspring, thence south to Smith's Fork, thence down said creek with its meanders to the mouth of the branch west of the town spring, thence west to a chinquapin oak standing on the north side of the Liberty and Dismal Creek road, thence south to the beginning; provided that the west boundary shall not include any of the land owned by Leonard Lamberson.

Revived after the war, the corporation was abolished soon after the passage of the four-mile law of 1877. William Blackburn and Elijah Bratten were post-bellum mayors.

The people of Liberty for some years had to go as far as Carthage to mail letters. This was changed when the stage began to run, maybe before. The earliest postmaster recalled by the old people was "Grandaddy" Dougherty, who carried the mail around in his hat, collecting the postage. Perhaps Dr. Wright preceded Dougherty, as in his daybook various persons were charged "cash for postage." Wright was a son-in-law of James Fuston, third host of Duncan Tavern. In 1844 Isaac Whaley succeeded Dougherty, holding the position until 1888, with the exception of a few months when, at the beginning of the war, Frank Foster was postmaster for the Confederacy and when, after the war, M. C. Vick held the office a short time. H. L. Hale succeeded Mr. Whaley in 1888. Mrs. Cannie Whaley was appointed some years later. C. L. Bright is the present postmaster.

It should be noted that there were no envelopes until a late day. The writer has before him now a letter addressed in 1827 to "Mr. M. S. West, Liberty, Smith Co., Ten." It is a sheet of paper folded and fastened with a small bit of sealing wax, the amount of postage, ten cents, being marked on the outside. It was mailed man in the county in his day, as far as general literature is concerned. Dr. John S. Fletcher, who died in Smithville in 1877 (graduated from three universities, among them the University of Pennsylvania) and was surgeon in Gen. John C. Brown's brigade at the close of the war of 1861-65, had a distinction in after years similar to that of Dr. Flowers.

The county has produced some men of more than local reputation, but the writer recalls but one instance in which the people contributed of their means to erect a memorial to any DeKalb Countian. It is worth thinking about. The one thus honored was neither jurist, minister, statesman, editor, captain of industry, author, scholar, nor military chieftain. He was a very plain, unassuming man, who out of sympathy for the bereaved and their dead made it convenient to help dig the graves of his neighbors for nearly or quite threescore years. The marble shaft over W. H. (Hamp) Woodside's grave at Liberty is proof that a noble heart is still regarded as more than mere worldly success.

Mention might be made of many DeKalb Countians with rare or bizarre qualities, such as the one who could never be made to answer yes or no directly and another who spoke as if always quoting, as, "I'm not feeling well to-day, as the old saying is"; but to give the story complete much more space would be required than can be offered in this history.

Hundreds of names of citizens once familiar in the county are recorded in these pages, it will be noticed. Of their owners little more can be said now than that their graves are green. It is pathetic. But, to paraphrase Burns,

> Should auld cognomens be forgot,
> And never brought to min'?

A striking thing about the names is the absence of foreign ones. The foreparents were of Anglo-Saxon stock. Some names were queer: Esau Pack, Giles Driver, Sim Hathaway, Bob Prydy, Pack Florida, Enoch George, Gil Etheridge, Cantrell Bethel, Cicero Duncan, Caleb Davis, Seaborn Harts, Brown Harriman, Crofford Rankhorn, John Shehane, Daniel Ratlige, Poindexter Joins, Nehemiah Garrison, Congelius Burrip, Jonas Nokes, Iradel March, Conrad Lamberson, James R. Gapway, Brice Parsley, Zene Crips, John Canler, Seth Whaley, Archamac Bass, Crag Parsons, Acenith Fite, Brackett Estes, Thomas Durham, Edwin Shumway, Randall Pafford, King Herod, William Mooneyham, Cain Adams, Lito Hullett, June Driver, Leven Gray, Friday Martin, Samuel Casey, Tucker Woodson, Festus Moses (the great walnut buyer), Goodman Mallon, Telford Steele, Park Amonett, Vincent Manor, Bart Nonnelly, Emory Cubbins, Mikel Etheridge, Irwin Page, Fuller Sanlin, and North Reynolds. Others were musically alliterative: Edmondson Elkins, Nelson New, Mat Martin, Lee Lafever, Leonard Lamberson, Benjamin Blades, Sylvanus Stokes, Kern Clark, Rich Richardson, Elam Edge, Pleasant Pistole, Dempsey Driver, Fox Frazier, son-in-law, Josiah Duncan, was settled on the land last owned by the W. G. Bratten heirs. Erecting a house on the farm now owned by George Givan, a mile south of Liberty, he died before moving to it. His widow, with his son-in-law, William Givan, removed to the farm, and it is in the possession of the Givan family in 1914. In the family graveyard in the rear is a limestone slab with this legend: "In memory of Thomas Dale, born March 5, 1744; died January 6, 1812."

The colony set about preparing homes and the community soon took on a more encouraging aspect. The mill was erected on Smith Fork Creek north of Liberty, and the place became widely known as the Dale Mill Settlement. As the little cluster of houses grew larger, the name of Liberty was given it by its founder. It is possible that the mountain between Liberty and Smithville was named Snow's Hill by him in memory of the place where he enlisted for American independence. There is not a Dale in what was once called the Dale Mill Settlement. A grandson of Rev. William Dale, Riley, resides on his farm, several miles from Liberty, aged seventy-two.

There is a diversity of opinion as to who was the first merchant. Goodspeed says he was a Mr. Walk; James Givan thinks his name was Vaught. George Givan, on Clear Fork, it is interesting to state, now owns a well-preserved wash kettle purchased from the first merchant about a century ago.

The earliest dwellings were supposedly built by William Givan, Josey Evans, and Henry Burton, who came with the Maryland settlers. All three were carpenters. Other pioneer merchants were Fite & Duncan, Ben Blades, Joshua Bratten, and Moore & Price.

From Dr. Wright's daybook it is seen that the following firms were in existence as early as 1832-33: Fite, Whaley & Co., Ray & Reed, woodworkmen and smiths, Davis & Wood, Derickson & Braswell, saddlers, York & Bailey, and Whaley & Son.

Some years prior to the War between the States the following were in various businesses: Eli Vick, William Vick, Hale & Hays, merchants; W. G. Foster, Frank Foster, William Whaley, and William Ford. Among the merchants after the war were Eli Vick, William Whaley, C. W. L. Hale, William Vick, J. H. Overall, Overall & Hollandsworth, M. C. Vick, D. D. Overall, Elijah Bratten, Vick Bros., George Turney, James Pritchett, Isaac Whaley, H. L. Hale, Blue Givan, W. T. Hale, and others. The business directory for 1914 shows: Maud Spurlock, Robinson & McMillan, Whaley Bros., general merchants; Bright Bros., vehicles; W. L. Vick, harness; Will Fite, hardware; Turner & Son, groceries; Bratten Bros., grain; William Organ, Jr., tinner; Tom Lamberson, blacksmith; Hugh Gothard, liveryman; H. L. Hale and Joe Conley, produce; Grover Evans and J. C. Stark, insurance; L. Woodward, photographer; W. C. Smith, painter.

As early as 1832-33 the neighborhood around the village must have been thickly populated or many patrons of the stores came from the Smithville and Woodbury communities. Some of the names on Dr.

Wright's daybook are: J. G. Roulstone, S. J. Garrison, David L. Ray, W. C. Garrison, Lemuel H. Bethel, David Fite, Reuben Evans, Eli A. Fisher, M. A. Fricks, German Gossett, Francis Turner, G. Shehane, Henry Fite, Charles Jenkins, James Stanford, George L. Givan, John Floyd, Zach Williamson, Brackett Estes, John L. Strong, Joel N. West, John Stark, Peter Hays, Joshua Bratten, B. F. Wood, T. W. Duncan, James Wilder, Moses Fite, Joseph Cameron, Louis Y. Davis, Thomas Allan, Lem D. Evans, Richard Arnold, Matthew Simpson, John Little, John Griffith, James Bayne, William Boyd, Joseph Fite, Alfred Wallace, Capt. William S. Boswell, David Thompson, Thomas Allan, David Fricks, Richard McGinnis, John Stark, John Hays, John E. Dale, W. T. James Wyly (1799-1857) was a prosperous farmer and ferry owner who lived in the Chalk Level community. He represented Humphreys County in the state House of Representatives in 1837-1839 and Benton County in 1843 and 1847-1849. He was a firm supporter of Andrew Jackson and a leading citizen of the county for many years. The Wyly family owned more land than any other family has ever owned in the county, some 30,000 acres before 1860.

Stephen Congo Pavatt (1808-1863) was a native of Sumner County who was educated and trained in law, which he practiced in Waverly and Huntingdon before moving to Camden in 1846. He served in the state House of Representatives 1833-1837, the state Senate 1851-1853, and chancellor of the Sixth Chancery District 1854-1861. He was a man who cherished the classics and was credited with naming Waverly, based on Sir Walter Scott's Waverly novels. Waverly became the county seat of Humphreys County in 1838. Pavatt was said to have been a man of great dignity of bearing and possessed unusual legal talents. The Pavatts lived for many years on their large farm at the confluence of Eagle Creek with the Tennessee River, long called Pavatt's Landing.

Colonel William Pitts Morris (1817-1893), also a native of Sumner County, clerked as a young man before moving to Camden. He served as county court clerk, 1843-1852; in the state House of Representatives 1861-1862, 1879; in the state Senate 1883-1884, and was a successful merchant. An active Mason and Methodist, Colonel Morris was a leading citizen of Camden for many years.

Among other settlers in the valley of Beaverdam Creek were John Sarrett, a Revolutionary War veteran, Daniel Settle, John and William Pafford, Burwell Lashlee, James S. Sayles, John Penick, Wyatt Arnold and his sons, John B. Carson, Cooper Melton, David and Margaret Cuff, and Americus Vespuci Vick. Settlers in the valley of Cypress Creek were Benjamin Holland, William Thompson, James Lee, Rhubin Bridges, Joseph Cowell, Moses Jordan, Joshua House, Captain Lilly Crocker, Charles Williams, Lewis and Zachariah Barker, Colonel Thomas Jones, Jacob Hicks, and Alexander Bivens.

foundations. It was laboriously built with hand adzed logs, square and joined at the corners in the dove-tail design.

Other Baptist congregations in Benton County include Pleasant Hill, organized in 1845; Chalk Level, which had been a Primitive congregation for some time before it became a missionary church about 1852; Shiloh, organized in 1844, now defunct; Harmon Creek, organized in 1840, now defunct; Unity at Holladay, organized in 1868; Camden Baptist dating to 1896 in its present location; Chalk Hill, near Eva, organized before 1850; Union, organized in 1857 and later merged with Unity; Big Sandy, organized in 1914; Missionary Grove, organized in 1926; Eagle Creek, organized in 1887, now defunct; Eva, organized in 1917; Green Hill, organized in Birdsong Valley in 1892, now defunct; Prospect Baptist, organized in 1903; and Pleasant Ridge, organized in Sawyer's Mill in 1890, but previously existing nearby as the Terrapin Hill congregation.

The Methodists first sent their missionaries into West Tennessee in 1821. The first Methodist congregation organized in the county was called Chapel Hill, but about 1860 it was renamed Cowell's Chapel. It has maintained the same location since it was first organized in 1824. The congregation currently meets in a pretty brick church in Camden. About the same time that Cowell's Chapel was organized, the Methodists on Beaverdam Creek also organized their church, always known as the Flatwoods Church. John Pafford, a lay minister, led the organization of this congregation. Just about two miles to the south of it was the oldest campground in the county, first cleared for brush arbors in the early 1830s. It was located partially on the two-acre site formerly occupied by the mixed-blood Indians who had been driven away from there a few years before.

Among other Methodist congregations have been Post Oak, organized before 1835, several miles northwest of Camden; Mt. Carmel, near Sawyer's Mill, organized several years before 1857; Bethlehem, organized near its present location in 1867; Morris Chapel, organized near Camden in 1883; Eva, organized in 1912; Manley Chapel, first organized as Hays Chapel on Morgan's Creek, now defunct; Harmon Creek, organized before 1869; Mt.

COWELL'S CHAPEL

A.

One and eight tenths miles southwest from the court square in Camden (via Natchez Trace Road and Dogwood Street), in Benton County, Tennessee, is located the venerable religious seat known as Cowell's Chapel, the oldest continuous congregation in the Lexington District of the Memphis Conference of the United Methodist Church. For many years and for several generations this hallowed place served as the hub of the community thereabout; indeed people of several denominational affiliations attended "meeting" there, especially during the protracted meetings and revivals. The local school was located on these grounds as well. Saints and sinners - indeed all the varieties imaginable of human character have been given burial in the Chapel yard since pioneer times.

In October 1818, the Chickasaw Indians ceded West Tennessee, which had been for centuries their vast game preserve, to United States commissioners sent to work out this treaty of cession./1 During the next two years a veritable flood of humanity crossed the Tennessee River (which separated Middle Tennessee from the Western District) to settle on occupant claims or by squatters' rights, on land in this public domain.

Several families settled in the vicinity of what is now Cowell's Chapel, in and around Cypress Creek farmlands, with its tributaries, the Cane and Indian Creeks. This area was organized by the Tennessee legislature as the western section of Humphreys County on November 15, 1819./2 It so remained till Benton County was created by the state legislature and assumed its birth on January 1, 1836./3 This county, named subsequently in honor of one of its most enterprising farmer-settlers and a veteran of the War of 1812, David Benton,/4 is located partially in the western valley of the Tennessee River and partially in the plateau of West Tennessee. The valley extends about two miles inland. The land surface is variable throughout with the formations on the surface of the western part of the county consisting of unconsolidated clays and sands; the eastern section is hill and valley topographically, with its many steep bluffs overlooking the Tennessee River./5 Benton is a hill county, then, with numerous creek valleys which early attracted settlement.

The early census records available on the people of the Benton County area reveal that its pioneer element had come out from the Carolinas, Virginia and several came by way of Georgia and Alabama. They were a rather homogeneous group, with all their regional differences notwithstanding. They were indeed, almost without exception, of that American folk called the southern hill yeomanry which consisted principally of small landholding farmers and herdsmen, with those among them talented and trained in the necessary crafts and skills of the era.

They and their descendants for several generations were more aptly characterized by Professor Clement Eaton as "the South's rural middle class". Independent they were, tolerant of ways different from their own if not flaunted before them, rustic in manners, plain and utilitarian in speech; although a minority of them were despicable, most were well up to the point of average in disposition, while among them there were men and women of sterling character. Fond of frolic, group singing, bran dances, the political hustings, they ranged as well from the deeply religious to the spiritually bereft. Horace Kephart knew this stock very well and reported that as a class they were "pround, sensitive, hospitable,

COWELL'S CHAPEL BURIAL YARD

On the pillar at the north entrance into this cemetery, is a commemorative plaque which reads, "In memory of Grandfather, Berry Cowell, Jan. 8,1825 and Grandmother, Martha E. Cowell, April 12, 1824, married Dec. 5, 1844. Erected by grandsons Rice Cain, Carlie Malin, 1966."

In order that the burial yard would be maintained in perpetuity, it was placed under the superintendance of the Cowell's Chapel Trust Fund, established October 21, 1974, with its present trustees being Queen Latimer-Cowell, Nell Williams-McCollum, Arville A. Thompson, Thetus H. Latimer, Woodrow W. Cowell and Beulah Fisher-Latimer.

The Known Burials

"Safely Anchored in the Harbor of Eternal Rest...."

The oldest tombstone remaining in the burial yard at Cowell's Chapel is that of Lucinda, consort of Joseph J. Wiseman.

The Wisemans lived on Cane Creek, on the northern periphery of the Cowell's Chapel community, close by the municipal cemetery and thriving business section of west Camden, the county seat of Benton.

Joseph J. Wiseman (November 8, 1807-April 1, 1893), a native of North Carolina, was married to Lucinda Wiseman, July 29, 1828, in Maury County, Tennessee (according to that county's marriage records), where they had moved; several years later they moved to their Cane Creek farm in Range 7, Section 4, 12th Surveyor District, in what became Benton County. (Benton County: Land Entry Book 1827-1849, page 149; Deeds A, page 59; Deeds B, page 91)

Lucinda Wiseman died and her remains were buried in the nearest churchyard, that of Chapel Hill (Cowell's Chapel); her husband had a simple monument erected at her gravesite, a gesture worthy of remark at the time; the tombstone has outlasted most of the stones there of that era. Her dates given on the tombstone, January 30, 1811-December 22, 1840.

Dau of Andrew L. Neville OBITUARY.
Mother Mary McDaid

DIED--Near Scooba, Miss., April 21st, 1882, Mr. A. L. Neville, Sr.

The painful intelligence of the death of this beloved brother has just reached us. Some twelve years ago while pastor of the 2nd Presbyterian church in Mobile I knew him well and intimately. He was an Elder in that church, and one of its most efficient officers. His pastor always knew just where to find him, and always received from him aid and sympathy. He was a man of firm and decided convictions, and always ready to give expression to his convictions. He was open, frank and manly. He was also genial, generous hearted and sympathetic, always ready to speak a word of encouragement to his pastor. He loved the doctrines of his church, and was an able and earnest defender of them. He was an intelligent, liberal-hearted christian, always ready to contribute of his substance to the support of the gospel at home and abroad. He was the confidential friend of the pastor during his whole pastorate of ??????????????. The memory of this beloved brother Elder brings up to the pastor's mind many pleasant reminiscences of by-gone days--reminiscences fondly cherished. Our last interview was in the city of St. Louis, during the session of the Assembly. He was then living in that city. I found him the same warm hearted, earnest christian I had known in former years. But our beloved brother has now finished his work, and entered upon his rest. He now sleeps his last sleep, and has fought his last battle. He has gone where the wicked cease from troubling, and where the weary are at rest. "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord, from henceforth, yea, saith the Spirit, for they rest from their labors, and their works do follow them." Though our brother's physical sufferings were great and protracted, yet his faith was strong--his hope was bright. He died as he had lived, resting on the promise of God's word. When he knew that his end was approaching, he called his children around him, and exhorted them to believe in the Divine promises, assuring them that it was a comfort to him in this trying moment, to pillow his head on these precious promises. I tender my heart-felt sympathies to his bereaved family.

APPENDIX I., THE 1840 TAX LIST OF BENTON COUNTY, TENNESSEE

Under the provisions of the Ratified Constitution of Tennessee, 1835, all real estate was valued for tax purposes on its actual market value; one was actually taxed on a small percentage of this listed land value. Taxation on slaves was based on the same principle.

Many free white males were required by law to pay a poll tax, as established by the Constitution (Article 2, Section 28) and by legislative act, February 5, 1836. (PUBLIC ACTS OF TENNESSEE, 1835-36. Nashville: S. Nye & Co., 1836, page 59. "Be it enacted, That each and every white male person, between the ages of twenty one and fifty years, shall pay annually a poll tax of twelve and a half cents.")

Free blacks were exempted from military duty (in peace time) and from paying a poll tax, also, according to the Constitution (Article 4, Section 1). They were, however, taxed on real and personal property when they had any to declare.

The County Court appointed a Justice of the Peace (a magistrate of the County Court) annually to compile a list of taxpayers in his civil district, with taxable property listings, which he submitted to the County Court Clerk who would compile one tax list from all reports given to him. A magistrate so acting was designated by law as a revenue commissioner.

The State Comptroller (finance officer) supplied the County Court Clerk each year with "a durable and well bound blank book" in which to enumerate by civil district the names of taxpayers, alphabetically, along with all pertinent tax information; which document was then sent to him; transcriptions of the official list were kept locally. The Sheriff then announced a location in each district where he would be on a certain date, available to collect the tax monies from the citizenry. After making the county-wide collection, the Sheriff sent the tax money due the state to the Comptroller, who with the State Treasurer oversaw the state's financial structure.

County tax was collected at the same time as the state tax by the Sheriff who turned it over to the county's financial officer, the Trustee (who in 1840, for Benton County, was John Howard Williams). The county tax rate was set by the County Court.

George R. Kelsey, County Court Clerk for Benton County, 1838-43, compiled the tax list for this county, a rendering in his own handwriting, for the year ending September 1, 1840. This record is preserved in the Courthouse in Camden and is on microfilm (Roll 180), public records of this county, at the Tennessee State Library and Archives, Nashville, Tennessee 37219.

This tax record is abstracted here to show the individual taxpayer, land claimed, its value and the number of males, aged 21-50, in each household who were subject to pay the poll tax. The acreage listed numerically is NOT necessarily an actual accounting of the real estate claimed by the taxpayer-citizen. A majority of the local landowners had not, by 1840, officially gained title (by land grant from the state) to the land they had by occupant-claim (squatters' rights). They delayed processing their land entries to land grants for several reasons, not the least of which was that they thereby avoided heavier taxation (claimed fewer taxable acres). Some persons held large farm tracts but reported absurdly small acreage for tax purposes. The same thing holds true for slaves who were taxed on the age basis, male and female, 12 to 50

Note: It is interesting that both Thomas Halliburton (H. Burton) and James Robertson both were taxed on the same property. Halliburton's land, 20 acres just west of Camden, on the stageroad-west, was the seat of Benton County's first courthouse. Benton County Deed Book A, page 73, shows that Halliburton mortgaged this tract to James Roberson of Nashville, April 10, 1838. He sold it outright to Robertson October 19 of the same year. (IBID., page 103) Robertson later sold, about 1841-42, this tract to James L. Duvall (deed apparently not recorded) who lived on the place when he sold it to Royal M. Hawley of Shelby County, Tennessee, for $150, December 14, 1849. (IBID.: Deed Book C, page 155)

In Thomas Halliburton's simple log dwelling, Benton County was organized early in February 1836. That same year, the County Court had a small log house built next to the Halliburton dwelling; this was Benton County's first courthouse. At the time the county was organized the log house belonged to Thomas Halliburton's brother, Samuel, from whom he purchased the tract in March 1838. (IBID.: Deed Book A, page 72) tame the wildernesses of this country.

Elder Arnold knew from personal experience what wild youth is capable of doing. He alluded subtly to this circumstance in his autobiographical sketch, quoted above. On October 24, 1837, when he was probably in his cups, he got angry and fired his rifle into the home of Angus McLeod in Benton County. The ball hit a dog and killed it. He was bound to the circuit court; threw himself upon the mercy of the court. He was fined at the September 1838 session of this court. (Benton County: Circuit Court Minutes A, pages 63, 67) After his own religious conversion, he became an exemplary character.

Elder Arnold's father, Jimmy, was administrator of his own father, Wyatt Arnold's estate. The old man's modest acreages were sold through him to Joe Arnold in February 1850. (Benton County: Deed Book C, page 135) Although of meagre circumstances, Jimmy Arnold deeded some of his land to his young son in March 1832. (IBID: Deed Book E, page 213) Elder Arnold married as a youngster and he and his wife had a large family. They lived many years in the old Arnold settlement, back off Beaverdam Creek. When General N. B. Forrest made his surprise raid on Johnsonville in early November 1864, with a part of his forces he passed Elder Arnold's homestead; talked with him briefly at his gate.

In 1872, when the People's Store, an agricultural cooperative was established in Camden, Elder Arnold managed its operation for some time. This store was located on the south side in this town, the farthest lot west.

After Mary (Polly) Arnold died and Elder Arnold was in advanced age, he went to live in Holladay, a small village in southern Benton County, where he lived with his daughter, Charlotte Allen, and her family. There he died May 9, 1893. His remains were taken back to the old Arnold graveyard on Beaverdam, beside the old cabin home of his parents'. This old house was destroyed by the cyclone of March 13, 1913.

It was written of Elder Arnold in the CAMDEN CHRONICLE, May 12, 1893, "He had proclaimed the gospel in nearly every community in Benton County, where he has done much valuable service as a minister for the past 35 years, which is said to be longer than that of any other minister in the Southwestern Baptist Association."

(The Borum account gave Elder Arnold's birth date as February 27, 1817, but this CHRONICLE article suggested it had occurred March 31, 1817.)

own as Appomattox Manor House, has of course been augmented; t it remains in the possession of the Eppes family. There is in records of Charles City County, dated May 29, 1638, a patent eed Book No. 1) for 1700 acres to Col. Francis Eppes, which may may not refer to the same land as that mentioned above. On nuary 23, 1653 Francis Eppes was granted 280 acres more in arles City (Deed Book No. 2, P. 219), on the south side of both Appomattox and the James.

Col. Francis Eppes was one of four Virginians recommended the English authorities in June, 1637, as persons fit to be appointto the king's Council for the colony (Virginia Magazine of History and Biography, Vol. 9, P. 181); but he did not receive the appointment at this time. In 1639 he was elected to the House of Burgesses from Charles City County and took his seat at the opening of Assembly on January 6th (Colonial Virginia Register, Stanard, 60). He was again a Burgess for the county in the Assembly of 45 (Hening, Vol. 1, P. 299). On April 30, 1652 he was appointed Councillor (Ibid., Vol. 1, P. 372), and this office he held until his ath. He died in Virginia probably before 1655, leaving three ns named in the patent above-mentioned: (1) John Eppes; (2) ancis Eppes (the second Lieut. Col. Francis Eppes); and (3) omas Eppes.

The second Lieut. Col. Francis Eppes, of Henrico County, was rn in England about 1628, and came to Virginia in 1635 as reed. It seems probable that his mother died in England about 30-1635, and that his father then brought the three sons and thirty rvants to Virginia. Unfortunately the records of Henrico prior to 77 are no longer in existence; hence there is comparatively little cord evidence about this second Francis Eppes. It seems clear at he was a lieutenant-colonel in the Virginia militia; in a petition the Crown dated about May 1680, one Robert Jones of Charles ty County stated that he "served under Colonel Eppes in the late bellion"—that is, in the forces operating against Bacon (Virginia agazine of History and Biography, Vol. 25, P. 140); and the circmstances surrounding his death seem to indicate that he was fatly wounded while actively campaigning against the Indians. This rancis Eppes was the owner of a large store, believed to have been Bermuda Hundred. He was a Justice of Henrico County from 77 (the earliest extant record) to the time of his death (Ibid., ol. 3, Pp. 393-5), and he is also known to have occupied this ofe prior to February 1, 1669, when he is called Captain Francis ppes in the minutes of Henrico County Court (Ambler Papers, ibrary of Congress). There are records of a grant to him of 1980 res, dated October 4, 1668, on the south side of both the Appoattox and the James (Charles City County Deed Book No. 6, P. 03), in Charles City County; also of a grant of 927 acres in Henrico ounty in 1673 (Henrico Deed Book No. 6, P. 480).

This second Col. Francis Eppes was twice married. By his first wife, whose name is unknown, he had only one child: Col. Francis Eppes (3rd), born 1659. His second wife was Elizabeth (Littlebury) Worsham, widow of William Worsham (See Worsham Family); and by this second wife he had four more children: (1) William Eppes; (2) Littlebury Eppes (Col. Littlebury Eppes of Charles City); (3) Mary, and (4) Anne Eppes. The second Francis Eppes was wounded by Indians and died in 1678, leaving a large estate. His will, recorded in 1679, shows an inventory of some three hundred pounds sterling, besides a large amount of property, store goods, etc., not appraised. His wife, twice a widow, did not long outlive him, for she also died late in 1678; she left two wills dated July 28, 1678 and September 23, 1678, which were proved in Henrico. In the first will she names as her executor Richard Kennon, husband of her daughter Elizabeth Worsham (See Kennon Family); in the second will she describes herself as the widow of Col. Francis Eppes and designates as executors Richard Kennon and her nineteen-year-old stepson, the third Francis Eppes. It is not known what became of her oldest sons John and Charles Worsham, but it would seem that the responsibility for all her younger children devolved onto Richard Kennon and his wife. This closer relationship between the Kennon and Eppes families culminated in the marriage of William Kennon and Anne Eppes, the children of Richard Kennon and the third Francis Eppes.

The third Col. Francis Eppes was born in 1659, as related above. He was undoubtedly an active officer in the Virginia militia for some years; for he is referred to as Captain in several records between 1692 and 1705, including the Journals of the House of Burgesses, Henrico land grants, and Governor Nicholson's Rent Roll; later records than 1705 refer to him as Colonel. He married Anne Isham, the younger of the two daughters of Capt. Henry and Katherine (Banks) Isham of Henrico (See Isham Family). This third Francis Eppes was a frequent holder of political offices. He became a Justice of Henrico, sworn into that office June 1, 1683; and he was sheriff of Henrico in 1685, 1686, 1691, 1692, 1698, 1710 and 1711, as shown by the records of the county (Virginia Magazine of History and Biography, Vol. 3, Pp. 393-5). He was one of the two Burgesses from Henrico in the Assembly of 1691-2 and the Assembly of 1693 (Journals of the House of Burgesses 1659/60-1693, Pp. xiv, xvi, 334, 356, 379, 393), and in the Assemblies of 1702/3-1705 and 1705-1706 (Journals of the House of Burgesses 1702-12, Pp. vi, viii, 6, 8, 9, 88, 109). He did not at first sit in the Assembly of 1710-12, but he (or his son and namesake) succeeded to the seat of his brother-in-law William Randolph of Henrico, who died after the first session of this Assembly (Ibid., Pp. ix, 332); his half-brother Littlebury Eppes was also a Burgess in this Assembly. At a Court held for Henrico on and in Whitchurch in 1379 John Pafforde appears as grantee in a land transacton. In a marriage record in the year 1682 it is shown that Henry Pafford married Hannah Quash. In a baptismal record in Exeter in 1644 two sons of Anthonie Pafford, Andrew and Anthoni, were baptized. And a street in St. Marychurch was named Pafford Street. And many more such instances.

So, meticulous research shows our family name to be an old one well documented back to ancient times, thanks to the librarian, affectionately called Jack Pafford, and my nephew Ward, through whose help a new book was opened to us about the family name.

THE MOVE FROM TENNESSEE

The only Pafford immigrants I know of were my great great grandfather Thomas Pafford and his young son James, in 1810. Others came too, very likely, but I haven't yet been to look at the record either on other travelers or Thomas and James. The record may be in Tennessee but I haven't checked there yet. We have one material item on James: his original grave marker with its lettering. This weathered old marker, of lightard, decayed off at ground level, now is mounted in Springhead Church. In 1952 we replaced it at the grave with permanent stone, erroneously inscribing that he was Scotch-Irish. He was English. But that mistake is a small one.

By about 1820 they were living in Tennessee near the Georgia border, possibly Hamilton County. The son James had grown up and married Welthy Corbitt. Their first child, in 1825, was Rowan, my grandfather. Their other children are listed up ahead. James there was a livestock man. Enterprising, evidently. In 1838 he brought mules to South Georgia for the market. His wife's people had already moved here and James brought the mules to their place, just east of the Alapaha River in presentday Lanier County. People still there say James arrived sick, was put to bed in the home of his in-laws, the Corbitts, and soon died of pneumonia, so Levin, like me a great grandson, reported to me. Levin had good information. They buried James in Fender Cemetery over near the river and placed the lightard marker at his grave.

The farm where James Pafford died is still there, called the Bill Lee Place. The old house isn't there. A later house is the farm home today. When I recently visited that place a large old post still stood across the road where the big horselot used to be. That post is said to have been part of the old well sweep that brought up water for James Pafford's mules, at the end of their trek from Tennessee. I gave the ancient post a solemn pat.

When news that James was dead reached the family back in Tennessee, it was for the oldest son, Rowan, then in his early teens, to go to South Georgia and see about the mules. Rowan got with it, as boys of today might express it, with pluck that our people could and did brag about from then on. The drama likely was staggering, firing his zeal, and making the 300-mile trip a prevue of the Ride of the Valkyries. We don't know how he traveled or if he traveled alone, but he made the trip. And it's reasonable to suppose that the folks helped him in selling the livestock, and with safecare of the proceeds for the family back home.

Then passed a year and five months. Welthy, the widow, again said marriage vows, this time with Isaac Curry, often called Ike. The following year, 1841, they parted and Ike went West. We're told this by Welthy's granddaughter, Amanda, a very long time after the event, in 1953, after granddaughter Amanda had become eighty-three years old. Seventy-five years earlier when a child, she was close to her grandmother Welthy. And she listened to the talk of her grandmother Welthy.

Welthy was born about 1800 and lived to 1880 when her grandchild Amanda was ten years old. So it is that we have the account of the move from Tennessee somewhat as related by Welthy herself from her old memories, relayed on to us in modern times by the same grandchild now in old age, in a tape recording made for me in 1953 in the home in Lakeland, Georgia, bridging the past and the present.

The recording goes on to say that after Ike went West, and after the birth of a tiny daughter named Millie Curry, Welthy Corbitt Pafford Curry gathered up some things and moved with the children from Tennessee to South Georgia where her own people lived, where her first husband, James Pafford, was sleeping in the grave. The recording goes on to say they came part of the way afoot. In that part of the journey they sometimes would lodge overnight with friendly families along the way. Welthy was bringing her tiny baby, and at one home where they'd spent the night the lady there came upon Welthy tending to the baby, and said in surprise: "I didn't know you had a baby." Amanda's voice explains that no baby crying had been heard in the nighttime; "Aint Millie wasn't able to cry, she was born premature and was mighty little and mighty weak, so little they said she could have been put in the coffee pot and the lid closed down. They had no incubators in that day and Aint Millie was wrapped up in an old timey shawl and sewed up between two pillows with a space left to tend to her."

They completed the move to South Georgia. It proved to be a good move. Ike came back from the West and rejoined his wife Welthy and the children and they became permanent residents here east of the Alapaha River. In 1846, five years after little Millie's birth, a second daughter was born to Welthy and Ike, named Elizabeth Curry. Elizabeth was the mother of our Amanda. Amanda's birth occurred June 28, 1870. Elizabeth married James Clinton Bradford. Amanda married Augustus M. Tomlinson. Her death date was Nov. 29, 1954. Her grave is in Fender Cemetery in what now is Lanier County. There is where her mother was buried in 1927, her aunt Millie in 1921, her grandmother Welthy in 1880, her grandfather Ike Curry on the day after Christmas in 1856, and her step-grandfather James Pafford in 1838.

Our little heroine Millie Curry lived to nearly eighty years old and never married. The reports on her were that her life was one of industry and general usefulness. She was a school teacher, private tutor, nurse, a church enthusiast, and was highly regarded. Millie Curry is back in this account in later stages.

It appears that the first Paffords ever to become Georgians were the four children of James Pafford and Welthy, though not born in Georgia. They were born in Tennessee. Their chosen part of this country was the area that now is in Lanier County, near the Alapaha River. They spread some miles northward up the river and formed our old settlement.

We have here some particulars about the life that was there for the larger part of a century. These people were good thinkers, hard workers, fair and square. Like others, they had their opponents. And they made their share of mistakes, but I don't believe they ever stayed on the wrong road very far. Down through the generations these people have inclined toward generosity right consistently. They love independence and self-reliance, too. I think they are coming along all right.

THE SETTLEMENT

The old settlement was somewhat flat-sided, the flat side being formed by the Alapaha River on the west. The settlement extended a few miles, as I remember it, in all other directions. I suppose its focal point was around where the post office went in. More about the post office later. It was maybe a mile from the river and some nine miles south, down the river, from Willacoochee, the railroad town. Willacoochee shows on all the maps. One of the present day paved roads to Willacoochee passes through where the settlement was and right by Springhead Church. All is quiet through there now. Most of the land now is devoted to timber.

19. At the churches, at the schools, at public gatherings in general, did slaveholders and non-slaveholders mingle on a footing of equality?:

20. Was there a friendly feeling between slaveholders and non-slaveholders in your community, or were they antagonistic to each other?:

21. In a political contest in which one candidate owned slaves and the other did not, did the fact that one candidate owned slaves help him in winning the contest?

KELLEY'S CHAPEL

By Mrs. John B. Kelly

In 1772 a Presbyterian church was founded at Ebbing Springs, in Washington County, Virginia. For several years all people in that community worshiped in that church. In 1792, this church was moved to Old Glade Springs, and the Presbyterians, who had previously worshiped at Ebbing Springs Church moved their membership to Old Glade, and the Methodists worshiped in the different homes of the community. These meetings were called "class meetings," and were held once a month on Wednesday nights. They were well attended, and the singing and experiences were very inspiring. Later, the services were held in an old log school house, which stood in the corner of the present cemetery.

In 1857, May 12, subscriptions for a meeting House near Kelly's School House, were taken. The building committee was composed of Daniel Smith, William Crow, and Jessee Pafford. Enough was subscribed to build the church.

August 28, 1857, Andrew McKee and wife, Mary Jane deeded the land for the Kelly's Chapel Church to the following trustees: Daniel Smith, James Kelly, Charles Meek, James DeBusk, William Crow, Claibourne Kelly, James Lester, Lilburn Robinson and Daniel Robinson.

James E. Kelly gave the land where the cemetery now is, and Joanna Edmondson Kelly, wife of Andrew E. Kelly, who died June 3, 1848, was the first person to be buried in this cemetery.

Kelly's Chapel is the mother Church of that community, and from it sprang Mt. Olivet, Mountain View, and Lebanon churches.

The pews in the church are made of solid walnut, hand dressed, costing only one dollar apiece. They were made from walnut logs, given by different members of the congregation.

Register of Deeds of Rowan County N. C.
Salisbury, North Carolina 28144

Dear Sir:

I am writing concerning any and all deed records that you may have of the PAFFORD (PARFORD) family.

I have found evidence of three PAFFORDS (PARFORDS) who had records in Stokes County, N. C. Since these records have very old dates and since Stokes was formed from Surry County in 1789 and Surry was formed from Rowan County in 1770, I thought perhaps these records might be in your county. I have attached a copy of descriptions of said property to this letter. Deed records are for these PAFFORDS (PARFORDS):

WILLIAM PAFFORD owned 31 acres which he sold to John Carr for $75.00.
JOHN PARFORD owned 100 acres on branch of Zelphas Island Creek
THOMAS PARFORD (PAFFORD) owned property adjacent to the 869 acres granted to John Rights 9 July 1794

I would like to have copies of these deed records, if you have them. If you locate other property owned by other Paffords (Parfords), I would like copies of their deed records. Please inform me as to cost and I will send a check by return mail.

I have data on more than a 1000 Paffords in America and most of the very early ones (1815 and back) were born in North Carolina or migrated from England. I would appreciate any assistance you might give to me concerning the PAFFORD (PARFORD) FAMILY. I have found evidence where two William Paffords registered for the Revolutionary War at Salisbury, N. C.

Sincerely yours,

Dorothy Alread

This may have been the son of THOMAS PAFFORD, the ancestor of John Williams Pafford of Ga. who came to America ca 1810. J. W. P. says first child born to James and Welthy in 1825.

JAMES MADISON PAFFORD - Source: JOHN WILLIAMS PAFFORD OF GA. John says James born in England and came to America with his father, Thomas ca 1810. He died in Ga. Oct. 1838 near Mud Creek. supposedly born 3 - 19 - 1797. This is the man Elva says in the father of Randolph A. If Randolph was born in 1809 than this James would have been ca 12 years old. However, if the James above was the same James Madison then he was at least 26 yr in 1820. This would make his birth in 1794,and his age would be ca 15 when Randolph was born - a little young but possible.However, why was he not listed in the census if this was James Madison and if Randolph was his son? If Elva has some proof, I wish she would share it with us.

Father Christian Smith, Sr. (German) I believe Rachel came to Texas before 1836 and therefore a lot of information might be obtained from the Texas State Archives. Ray lists these sources to check: 1826 Atascosita Census - Austin's 300 - Harris Co. Tx. will and probate records. - Texas Land Grants - Adair Co. Ky. deed and marriage records. I believe this is the same Rachel listed above because I found evidence of Christian Smith, Sr. in Stokes Co. N. C. Source: Micro-fiche N. C. RANDOLPH A. PAFFORD - B. ca. 1809 D. Val Verde Co. Tx. 10-13-1891. Married Mary (Polly) Phillips ca 5-24-1832. In the 1880 Kinney Co., Tx. Census, Randolph (age 71 yrs) gave info that he was born in N. C. and that both parents were born in N. C. Randolph with his family moved from Tenn. to Clarkville ,Tx in early 1850's and in Feb 1854, to Elm Creek, Tx. both places near Fort Clark, situated at Brackettville, Kinney Co., Tx. In 1868 moved to Del Rio then Kinney Co., Tx. Filed Claim #3190 against Mexican Gov. for land.

15. JESSE PAFFORD - Source: U. S. CENSUS 1860 The Western District in the Co. of Washington, State of Virginia. enumerated 11 July 1860. Post Office: Glade Spring. P. 99(or 463) Jesse Pafford b. ca 1810 in North Carolina. Married Reachel, b. ca 1808 in Virginia. d. somewhere between 1860 and 1867. Jesse was a cabinetmaker and all five living children born in Virginia. Jesse was a Methodist and according to Early Southwest Virginia Families by Elizabeth Kelly Allison, 1960, Jesse led the building of the Methodist Church called Kelley Chapel in Virginia. This book relates marriages of the families in the area. Two of Jesse's sons married Kelley girls. Ray Pafford's books say,"Kelly Pafford (509) says Jesse (500) visited them in Missouri about 1867 and went on to Iowa where he thinks he married again and had one daughter. Jesse is not to be found in any U. S. CENSUS index. I checked U. S. Census for 1850 in Was. Co. Va and did not find him. There was a boundary line dispute between N. C. * VA. TENN.*KY. which is discussed in the book Four Steps West compiled by James W. Sames II which discusses the dispute. Some researchers have had their family located in the same spot for years and yet find their records in one of these 4 states. This may be my problem. I have yet to read the book although I have located a copy in our public library. Ray Pafford says that Jesse was a slave holder and lost his slave property as a result of the Civil War. I have found no records to this effect.

16. WILLIAM PAFFORD - Iowa Co. - Grant Co. Wisconsin

In searching for a reason why Jesse might have gone to Iowa, I located this Pafford and strongly suspect that he may be a brother of Jesse - at least a close relative.

WILLIAM PAFFORD, Iowa Co. Vol. 13, p. 263. "First Territorial Census of Wisconsin April 20, 1836. Territorial governor established 1st. census July 1836. Wisconsin much larger - inc. present Iowa and Minnesota and the country still farther westward to about site of Bismark N. D. "see Boundaries of Wisconsin Vol XI." In 1836 had 11,683 inhabitants. William Pafford was listed as one of those inhabitants in 1836. I have several U. S. Census records on this family but the 1850 U. S. CENSUS for Grant Co. District 24, Wisconsin dated 20 Aug 1850 on page 27 reveals some interesting facts.

		Age		Occupation	Born

William born in N. C.; wife Jane and three oldest children born in Virginia and as they traveled through Indiana Richard 17 yr. was born. Finally four youngest children born in Wisc. William had been there at least since 1836 and first child born in Wisc. was 13 yr.

I believe this Pafford family is still located in this area. I found in Wisconsin State Genealogical Newsletter Vol. 28 #1 June 1981 Grant Co. Wisc. p. 53 an account taken from Grant Co. Wisc. Farm and Ranch Directory 1966 which stated JAMES PAFFORD of Lancaster (Town) zip 53813 (Route #1) South Lancaster (Township) Section 17, o (owner) Beetown is a Township- Code: "o" or "R" own or rent; last name, 1st name, P. O. address, Route # I wrote to this address and my letter was not returned. Although I received no answer, I do believe that my letter was delivered. — Finally received an answer!

The 1870 U. S. CENSUS gives William's age as 62 yr. and Jane's as 71 yrs. so he was born ca. 1808 or 1810

I have received some additional information on #16 from a new correspondant 1908, in which year he first came to Texas, locating at Fort Worth. While there he was a member of the architectural firm of Waller & Field. In 1916 he returned to Kansas City for two years, but since 1918 has been a citizen of Wichita Falls.

During these years he has been architect of many prominent buildings both private and public all over Texas. With the opportunities in Wichita Falls affording the freest scope for his genius, his work has attained a rare distinction. He has been the architect of the most distinctive buildings in the new Wichita Falls, and outside visitors have many times expressed favorable and admiring comments on the architecture of the new city.

One of the most notable of the modern office and commercial structures he has designed is the new home of the American National Bank Building, erected in 1920. It is a twelve story steel and concrete structure, faced with dark red tapestry brick and trimmed with cream terra cotta, the entire building being absolutely fireproof. There is no office building in Texas of higher grade construction and finish. Mr. Field to a remarkable degree has solved the complicated problems of giving beauty of outline to the building bulk, while in the interior he has contrived a harmonious adjustment of the mechanical equipment required in a modern office structure to satisfy all the great canons of beauty. The building has a lavish use of marble and other decorative materials, but everywhere Mr. Field has laid a restraining hand upon the gaudy and meretricious. Another building of which he is the architect is the Bob Waggoner Building, originally known as the Clint Wood Building. This is one of the finest architectural monuments in Texas, truly a beautiful structure, a modern office building seven stories high, faced with golden tapestry brick with terra cotta to match. The terra cotta is very rich and full of beautiful detail.

Of another class of building should be mentioned the First Baptist Church, completed in 1921. This is probably the largest and most costly church in the state of Texas, constructed at a cost of over $300,000. In it was installed a $25,000 Austin pipe organ with an echo organ. Mr. Field also drew the plans for the recently let contract for the Floral Heights Methodist Church, to cost a quarter of a million dollars. This is built with classic massive portico in pure Greek classic design. Among other buildings in Wichita Falls which are pointed out as examples of Mr. Field's work are the T. B. Noble Theater and the private residences of M. J. Bashara and G. Clint Wood.

Since coming to Wichita Falls Mr. Field has taken a very public spirited part in civic affairs. He is a member of the American Institute of Architects, American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers, and of the local Chamber of Commerce and the Open Shop Association, and various social organizations.

WALTER F. PAFFORD of Justin has been a resident in North Texas for nearly half a century, grew to manhood here, and the greater part of his active life has been spent in Denton County.

He was born in Washington County, Virginia, in 1861. His grandfather, Jesse Pafford, was a mechanic, farmer and orchardist in Virginia and a slave holder who lost his slave property as a result of the war. He was also prominent as a class leader of the Methodist Church. He reared a family of three sons and a daughter and the daughter is now Mrs. Marion Arnold of Justin, Texas, the last survivor of her generation. M. Wesley Pafford, father of the Justin business man, was a native of Washington County, Virginia, and married there Martha Kelley, a daughter of Claiborne L. Kelley. Both the Kelleys and Paffords were old time families of Virginia. M. Wesley Pafford entered the Confederate army at the beginning of the Civil war, and continued in service until Appomattox. Two of his brothers were also soldiers, one of them being killed, and two of his wife's brothers were in the army and one of them gave up his life for the cause. After the war M. Wesley Pafford returned home and resumed his work as a mechanic and farmer. In 1872 he started with his family to Texas, taking the long journey from Virginia by wagon. They were a month and twenty-eight days on the way, reaching Texas in November. The country looked wild after they crossed the Mississippi, and Arkansas was practically a wilderness in appearance in the east as well as the western portion. there was no incident of special interest on the way. Arriving in Collin County, Texas, the family settled at Weston, where the father continued to follow his trade as a cabinet maker until well burdened with years. Outside of his home and work he was deeply interested in the religious affairs of his community, and served as a steward, class leader and Sunday School superintendent of the Methodist Church. He did most of the Mechanical work in constructing the permanent edifice at Cottage Hill and contributed liberally to its maintenance as well. The Cottage Hill church had the first self-supporting roof ever built in Collin County. The life of this old Collin County pioneer terminated in October, 1911, when he was seventy-three years of age. His wife died in March, 1888, at the age of forty-four. The oldest of their children, Walter Fulkerson, was named for Colonel Fulkerson, one of his father's army officers. The other children were: Sam K. of Collin County; Mollie, who died at Davis, Oklahoma, the wife of John Caraway; Rachel, who died in Collin County and rests beside her parents at Cottage Hill; Joseph L. of Claude, Texas; Robert J., of Salina, Kansas; John B., of Claude; and Lawrence Britton, a railroad man with the Trinity & Brazos Valley Railway.

Walter F. Pafford was eleven years of age when the family reached Collin County. He grew up in the western community and in 1895 moved out of that section to the old Drop community of Denton County. He started there with a small supply of cash, a wagon and team and implements, and filed on a tract of public land which had been covered up and smuggled along for several years, until court action declared it to be state land. He filed on a hundred and sixty acres of the section in dispute, erected the first good house on it, and cultivated the soil there three years. He then leased this quarter section, and leased for himself a ranch upon which to run his stock. He made grain growing an important feature of his industry and during the five year term of the lease made considerable money on this venture. In the meantime he subleased and bought a farm in Wise County, bringing a hundred acres under cultivation. In 1905 Mr. Pafford bought a quarter section adjoining his claim in Denton County, built a house on it and remained there until 1908. Then leasing all his holdings he went out to Claude, Texas, bought and stocked a ranch with horses and cattle and had four interesting and profitable years as a West Texas stockman. He returned to Denton County on account of Mrs. Pafford's health. He then bought another farm just west of Justin, but with a home in the village itself. After a year he turned his attention to merchandising, opening a hardware store, being the first enterprise of the kind at Justin handling a general line of hardware and implements. After two years of selling goods he resumed his place on the farm near town and gave it his personal and active supervision four years. He then built his present home at the city limits on Pafford Avenue, and from that residence still looks after his farming interests. While most of his revenue has come from grain growing Mr. Pafford has experimented in horticulture and the growing of truck crops, and these experiments have convinced him that such production can be carried on with a fair regularity of success sufficient to justify operations on a commercial scale. While on the farm he had a flock of registered Shropshire sheep, and this department too was not without profit.

Mr. Pafford like his father and grandfather has always cherished and worked for the spiritual welfare of the community. While at Drop he took much responsibility in behalf of the Methodist Church, serving as a steward and superintendent of the Sunday school. While there and also at Claude and at Justin he was selected as a lay delegate to conferences. The church at Drop was erected while he was there and the Methodists at Claude also undertook a building program while he was a member of the community. He contributed liberally to both causes. Another matter that has enlisted his active support has been public schools and he was a member of the district board at Drop and is now chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Justin School. Mr. Pafford cast his first presidential vote for Cleveland in 1884 and has been a steady adherent of the party ever since.

In Collin County he married Dora Wilson, a native of that county and daughter of J. I. Wilson. Mrs. Pafford died November 3, 1916. Of her children the oldest is Nannie Belle, wife of C. Y. Leuty of Justin, and the mother of two sons, Howard and Walter Guy. Eula May the second of the family is the wife of L. R. Jordon of Fort Worth and has three children, Jack, Audrey May and Ray. Mr. Pafford's third child is Vera, wife of L. G. Alread of Justin, and the mother of Pafford and Cammie. Ray Wilson Pafford was with the Students' Army Training Corps at Denton during the World war and is now connected with the Acme Brick Company at Millsap, Texas. Walter J., the youngest, is a farmer at the old homestead. At Justin, April 21, 1919, Mr. Pafford married Mrs. Lola Pafford. Her father, D. C. Leuty, was one of the early settlers of Denton County where Mrs. Pafford was born. He was in the Home Guard of Texas during the war between the states and was also one of the defenders of Northern Texas against the Indians during their last raids. Mrs. Pafford's mother was a daughter of J. J. Young. Besides Mrs. Pafford, the oldest of her parents' children, there were Clyde, Will, Callie, Dane, Reggie, Leuty and Mrs. Lizzie Mason.

Otho Lee Bishop is a native son of Johnson County, Texas, and at Cleburne, its judicial center, he is now vice-president of the Traders State Bank, one of the substantial and important financial institutions of this vital and progressive city. He has shown deep interest in all things pertaining to the civic welfare and industrial and business advancement of his native county and is known as one of the progressive and public-spirited citizens of Cleburne.

Mr. Bishop was born on a farm near Cleburne and the date of his nativity was June 21, 1875. His father, Wiley Brinkley Bishop, was born and reared in Tennessee, and from Milan, that state, he came with his family to Texas about the year 1869. He had served as a member of a Tennessee regiment in the Confederate Army, his assignment having been to the commissary department. In his native state he had been engaged in the mercantile business and with his family he became a member of a colony of Tennessee folk who came to establish homes in Texas, the overland trip having been made with teams and wagons. He first settled in Hill County, where he remained two years, and he then came to Johnson County and purchased a tract of land about six miles south of Cleburne, where he instituted the reclaiming of a productive farm from the raw prairie. He split the rails with which to fence his fields and otherwise he showed the constructive versatility of a well fortified pioneer. A few years after he here established his home Mr. Bishop was elected justice of the peace, about the year 1880, and he then removed from his farm to Cleburne. After holding this office four years he became deputy county clerk under Judge F. E. Adams, and after a few years of effective service in this capacity he was elected county clerk, an office of which he continued the incumbent sixteen years. Upon his retirement he returned to his farm, to the active supervision of which he continued to give his attention during the ensuing period of about ten years, at the expiration of which he returned to Cleburne, which city continued his place of residence until his death, in March, 1917, at the venerable age of eighty years. He was ever a stalwart advocate of the principles of the democratic party, was affiliated with the Masonic fraternity, both he and his wife having been zealous members of the Presbyterian Church. A man of sterling character and distinctive ability, Wiley B. Bishop was a vigorous supporter of the enterprises and agencies that conserved civic and material development and progress in Johnson County and its county seat, and he was known and honored as a loyal and public-spirited citizen. His wife, a playmate of his childhood, bore the maiden name of Ann Lansdon, she likewise having been born and reared in Tennessee and it having been hers to prove a true helpmeet to her husband in connection with their pioneer experiences in the Lone Star state. She died at Cleburne in 1882, and of her eight children five are living: William R., of Hobart, Oklahoma; Robert B., of New Orleans, Louisiana; Mrs. Bettie Brown, of Burkburnett, Texas; Mrs. Onie Ramsey, of Cleburne, this state; and Otho L.

Otho L. Bishop continued his studies in the Cleburne schools until his graduation in the high school, when he was about seventeen years of age, and thereafter he was for two years a student in a well ordered private school. In the meanwhile he passed his vacation periods on his father's farm whenever this was possible, as he was fond of outdoor life and early manifested a deep interest in live stock. His first real work after leaving school was rendered by his becoming driver of a wagon for the Wells-Fargo Express Company, from which he was promoted to a position in the company's office at Cleburne. About a year after this promotion he resigned his position to become an assistant in the office of his father, who was then county clerk. After the close of the term of his father he remained eight years with the latter's successor, and he was then elected county clerk, as the successor of R. H. Crank. Like his father before him, he gave a most efficient and satisfactory administration, and after serving four years as county clerk he turned his attention to the banking business. He assisted in the organization of the Traders State Bank, in which he initiated his service in the capacity of bookkeeper, and of which he is now active vice-president, an executive office of which he has been the efficient and valued incumbent for the past ten years. This bank was organized and incorporated in 1905, and

Dear Mrs Nelms,

I am sorry to be so long in answering your letter. I was waiting until I had the opportunity to check the census indexes of North Carolina for Paffords.

My husband's ancestor Daniel Pafford was born July 15, 1813 in North Carolina of Scottish parents. He was an only child. It is thought that he was orphaned early in his life since he came to Indiana in 1822 with a family by the name of Melvin & was a bound boy to them until he was 17.

His first wife, the mother of his children, was Hannah McBride, daughter of John McBride & Mary Woodruff. I believe the McBrides were from N.C. too.

I found William Pafford in Stoker Co., N.C. in 1800 (spelled Patterson) & in the index of 1810, Stoker Co. I found 2 Thomas Pafford's and William Pafford also there in 1810.

In 1800, Caty Melvin was in Stoker Co. & in 1810 there were no Melvins listed in 1810 in N.C.

"Melvin" is so similar to your "M I wonder if it was the Melton's D Pafford came to Indiana with. I there should be some records Pafford's being a bound boy but never pursued it - didn't really where to start looking.

I appreciate your information pass on anything I might f tining to your line. I'm so cant be of more help.

Sincerely,
Celia Bruce

P.S The only Pafford marriage in N.C. are:

William Pafford & Mary An obtained a marriage license on in Ashe Co., N.C. Bond signed Jon & witness was John Ray, Cl

William Pafford & Honey Bu a marriage license on March Stoker Co. N.C. Bond by John witness was William Ward listed in 1810 in N.C.

"Melvin" is so similar to your "Melton", I wonder if it was the Melton's Daniel Pafford came to Indiana with. I feel sure there should be some records of Daniel Pafford's being a bound boy but have never pursued it - didn't really know where to start looking.

I appreciate your information & will pass on anything I might get pertaining to your line. I'm sorry I can't be of more help.

Sincerely,

Celia Bruce

P.S The only Pafford marriages I have in N.C. are:

P

PACE, DARIUS, JAMES and WILLIS[3] AO13/26/339

Of Georgia. James Pace was a tavern keeper who owned 900 acres divided into two tracts. At the Peace he was living in Florida with his brother Darius and his son Willis. James Pace apparently died there in about 1783. Darius Pace was in Rawdon, Nova Scotia in 1786. He claimed £1,687 as compensation for the property of James, which was confiscated or plundered.

PACKMAN, JOHN[3] AO12/109/242

Of Maryland. Awarded £1,176 for his losses.

PADDOCK, ADINO[1] AO12/105/75, AO12/109/242

A coachmaker at Boston. Paddock was offered an appointment in the Whig artillery, but he refused and served with the British Army as both a commissary of artillery and captain of a company of Loyalists. He sailed for England in 1776. Paddock had a post during the Revolution instructing the militia on the Island of Jersey. He received a pension of £200 sterling per annum. His son was surgeon to the Loyal American Regiment. Paddock claimed a loss of £1,820 sterling, and was awarded £1,336 sterling.

PAFFORD, JOHN[2] AO12/100/294

Of South Carolina. A brickmaker, Pafford emigrated from Hampshire, England to America in 1774, taking £200 with him. He abjured the King in 1776, but when called upon to take up arms for the Americans, he refused and was imprisoned. Pafford moved to Jamaica after the war and, leaving his wife and two children there, he sailed for England to pursue his claim in 1784. His petition was rejected by the Commissioners, who considered that he was rightly imprisoned by the Americans. Pafford claimed £5,000.

VIRGINIAE RECORD

The following is a sketch on the life of ROWAN PAFFORD, put together by Michael H. PAFFORD.

Rowan Pafford was born April 10, 1825 in Hamilton Co., Tennessee, oldest son of James and Wealthy (Corbitt) Pafford. He came to Georgia in late 1838 or early 1839 to sell the drove of mules which his father, James, had brought to south Georgia, when he (James) took ill and died.

Rowan came back to Georgia with his mother and brothers and lived first in Ware County until 1850 when he was cut into the new county of Clinch when that county was created. He served as Justice of the Peace for the 586th District of Ware and Clinch Counties from 1849-1852. In 1854 he was cut into the new county of Coffee. He served as the first State Representative from Coffee County, 1855-1856.

During his early years in Georgia, Rowan was walking through the woods one day when he heard 2 girls screaming. Upon arriving on the scene, he found the 2 girls had fallen off a log bridge into the stream below and were in danger of drowning. He rescued the 2 girls and in due time he married them both. Rowan married first about 1847 to Elizabeth Smith, daughter of William Smith, R.S. After her death in 1866, Rowan married his first cousin, Fannie Corbitt who was also a neice to his first wife. Fannie was born 25 March, 1836 in Lowndes County, present Clinch County, and was a daughter of Newsome and Polly (Smith) Corbitt.

In January 1861, Rowan served as a delegate to the State Succession Convention which he voted against. He enlisted as Pvt. on 11 February, 1862 in Co. K, GA. Volunteer Infantry, C.S.A. The term of enlistment ended 01 April, 1862 and Rowan came out of service. He re-enlisted 22 November, 1862 as 1st Lieutenant in Co. E, 4th GA. Calvary. He was elected State Senator from Coffee County in 1863 and resigned his commission on 26 October, 1863 in order to serve as Senator. His resignation was accepted by President Jefferson Davis on 18 November, 1863 and he served as Senator from 1863-1865. At the conclusion of the Civil War, Rowan served as a delegate to the State Constitutional Convention.

In the 1850's, Rowan Pafford and his kinsmem built southwest of Pearson, GA. a log meetinghouse which served as both church and school. This log structure was replaced by the present building about 1870. Originally called Pafford Methodist Church, it had a pastor and regular services for many years but it was eventually abandoned by the Methodist Church. The name "Springhead" was coined by my late grandfather, Henry Morrison Pafford, Sr., from the fact that the church had been built on Featherbed Bay at the head of an underground spring. The church is maintained today by the Pafford family and services are held each 5th Sunday with my father, Rev. J. C. Pafford, serving as pastor.

Rowan died 09 January, 1890 from injuries after being thrown by his horse. Fannie died 07 May, 1899. Rowan, both wives and a number of his children are buried at Springhead.

The following is a sketch on the life of ROWAN PAFFORD, put together by Michael H. PAFFORD.

Rowan Pafford was born April 10, 1825 in Hamilton Co., Tennessee, oldest son of James and Wealthy (Corbitt) Pafford. He came to Georgia in late 1838 or early 1839 to sell the grove of Moley Wilson his father, James, had brought to South Georgia, when he (James) took ill and died.

Rowan came back to Georgia with his mother and brothers and lived first in Ware County until 1850 when he was put into the new county of Clinch when that county was created. He served as Justice of the Peace for the 508th District of Ware and Clinch Counties from 1848-1852. In 1853 he was cut into the new county of Coffee. He served as the first State Representative from Coffee County, 1855-1858.

During his early years in Georgia, Rowan was walking through the woods one day when he heard 2 girls screaming. Upon arriving on the scene, he found the 2 girls had fallen off a log bridge into the stream below and were in danger of drowning. He rescued the 2 girls and in due time he married them both. Rowan married first about 1847 to Elizabeth Smith, daughter of William Smith, R.S. After her death in 1856, Rowan married his first cousin, Fannie Corbitt who was also a niece to his first wife. Fannie was born 25 March, 1838 in Lowndes County, present Clinch County, and was a daughter of Newsome and Polly (Smith) Corbitt.

In January 1861, Rowan served as a delegate to the State Succession Convention which he voted against. He enlisted as Pvt. on 11 February, 1862 in Co. K, 6th Volunteer Infantry, C.S.A. The term of enlistment ended 01 April, 1862 and Rowan came out of service. He re-enlisted 22 November, 1862 as 1st Lieutenant in Co. E, 11th GA. Calvary. He was elected State Senator from Coffee County in 1863 and resigned his commission on 25 October, 1863 in order to serve as Senator. His resignation was accepted by President Jefferson Davis on 18 November, 1863 and he served as Senator from 1863-1865. At the conclusion of the Civil War, Rowan served as a delegate to the State Constitutional Convention.

In the 1850's, Rowan Pafford and his Kinsmen built Southwest of Pearson, GA. a log meetinghouse which served as both church and school. This log structure was replaced by the present building about 1870. Originally called Pafford Methodist Church, it had a pastor and regular services for many years but it was eventually abandoned by the Methodist Church. The name "Springhead" was coined by my late grandfather, Henry Morrison Pafford, Sr., from the fact that the church had been built on Feathered Bay at the head of an underground spring. The church is maintained today by the Pafford family and services are held each 5th Sunday with my father, Rev. J. C. Pafford, serving as pastor.

Rowan died 03 January, 1886 from injuries after being thrown by his horse. Fannie died 07 May, 1883. Rowan, both wives and a number of his children are buried at Springhead.

PARRAMORE, JOHN. 1775-1844 THOMAS

John Parramore, one of the first settlers of Thomas County before its creation, was born in Onslow County, N. C., August 26, 1775, and was a son of Matthew and Elizabeth Parramore. The parents moved to Screven County, Georgia, before 1800, where Matthew died in 1804. John, the subject, was married in 1799 in Screven County, to Nancy Brinson, born April 10, 1783, in Onslow County, N. C., daughter of Adam Brinson. To them were born ten children, viz:

1. Redden Wallace	b. 1800, m. Artemisha Jones, Feb. 27, 1828.

Soon after the creation of Telfair County in 1809, John Parramore and family removed there and lived until 1821 when they removed to the southern part of Irwin County then being settled up, and he in present Echols County. The Padgetts were from Colleton District, S. C., where the family is numerous and prominent. William Padgett was born 1805 in South Carolina, and moved to Georgia with his parents. He married Louisa Thomas, born 1810 in Georgia. To William and Louisa Padgett were born:

It appears that he lived there four or five years, then moved over into Hamilton County, Fla., and then back over into Georgia for two or three years, returning to Hamilton about 1845 where he lived until his death about 1855. His widow and children after his death moved back to Georgia and lived in Echols County until her death.

William Padgett served in Capt. David J. Miller's Company of Ware County militia in the Indian War in 1838, as a private.

RESOURCE GUIDE

Parish and Vital Records List

(A list of indexed church and vital records)

How the Parish and Vital Records List can help you:

The Parish and Vital Records List (on microfiche) is a guide to some of the most useful and easy-to-use records in the Family History Library. It is a list of church and government records:

- From 67 countries. (Look for the place and time your ancestor lived.)
- That have vital ancestor information.
- That have been indexed (extracted). Most indexes:
  - Give key birth, christening, marriage, or census information.
  - List people in the record alphabetically by surname.
  - Will help you find your ancestor on the original source record. This eliminates page-by-page searching of a microfilm. (Look for the index first; then look for the original source record.)

Names from some of these records are listed in the FamilySearch™ International Genealogical Index.

If you do not find a record in the list, look in the Family History Library Catalog for records for the place and time you need.

How to copy pages of the Parish and Vital Records List:

You may use a microfiche printer to copy pages of the list. If no printer is available, you can order a copy from the Family History Library for a small fee by filling out a Request for Photocopies: Census Records, Books, Microfilm, or Microfiche order form (31768). If you need assistance, ask a staff member for help.

How to find more information on the Parish and Vital Records List:

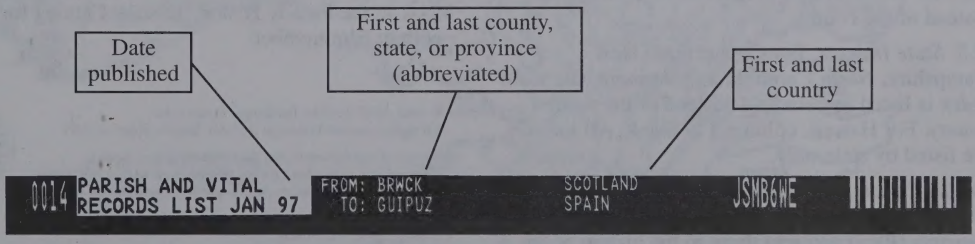
- See the introduction at the front of the list.
- See section U of the International Genealogical Index microfiche.

How to use the Parish and Vital Records List:

- Decide which geographic area and time period you need to search.
- Locate the Parish and Vital Records List microfiche in the Family History Library or the Family History Center. (This microfiche is usually near the International Genealogical Index microfiche.)
- Follow the three steps below.

1 Find the microfiche you need.

- The records are listed alphabetically by country.
- Most countries are subdivided into counties, states, or provinces.
- The heading at the top of each microfiche lists the date the microfiche was published; abbreviations for the first and last county, state, or province; and the first and last country.



(This is a microfiche heading on the Parish and Vital Records List.
The microfiche lists extracted records for Scotland, Singapore, and part of Spain.
Only the first and last countries are shown in the heading.)

2 Find the desired geographic area on the microfiche.

- Find the country in the top left corner of each microfiche page.
- If either the United States, Canada, or Germany is listed, find the state or province listed underneath the country.
- Then find the county. If you do not know what county a town is in, refer to a gazetteer, or ask a staff member for help. (See the example below.)

Column 1
Name of country (or county, state, or province for the United States, Canada, or Germany), which will be listed in alphabetical order. (County names are usually abbreviated and alphabetized according to the abbreviation.)

Column 2
Parish, town, or city of the records, listed alphabetically.

Column 3
Time period of record.

Column 4
Type of record:

BIR	Birth
CHR	Christening
MAR	Marriage
BUR	Burial
DEA	Death
CEN	Census

Column 5
Computer printout call number.

Use this number to find or order the index.

Column 6
The batch number of the extraction project.

Column 7
The Family History Library™ number for the source record (a microfilm, microfiche, or book).

Use this number to find or order the source record.

3 Note the records you need.

- Write down the numbers for both the index (the printout call number in column 5) and for the original record (the source call number in column 7) that you want to search.
- If you need assistance ordering these records, ask a staff member for help.

The information in the following records is listed differently from that above:

- Irish Civil Registration Records. These countrywide records are listed at the beginning of the Irish records. The words birth and marriage are listed, instead of the county.
- U.S. State Indexes. For Connecticut, New Hampshire, North Carolina, and Vermont, the word index is listed in column 1 instead of the word county. For Hawaii, column 1 is blank. All indexes are listed by state only.
- British Parish Records (church records). Most parishes in the Church of England copied their parish registers (PRS) and sent them to the bishop of the diocese. These copies were called bishop's transcripts (BTS). When a parish register was unavailable or incomplete, the bishop's transcript was extracted. For each given set of years, the percentage of names extracted from the bishop's transcripts is given (such as "BTS 85%"). If both the parish register and the bishop's transcripts were extracted, PRS and BTS are both listed.

Some parish records may not be listed by parish name but by another locality name. If a parish is not listed, look in the Family History Library Catalog for the correct film number.

Dear Mrs Jordan,

Thank you for your letter re the Pafford family. At one time we suspected that Pafford was a Devon variant of the Pavitt families. There is one well researched case where Pavitt was at first recorded as PAVORD then PAFFORD but we now believe that this was a "one off" instance and that the PAFFORD's & PAVITT's are separate & distinct families.

I append below the name & address of one USA correspondent who appears to have been able to trace her Pafford connection back to England, and hope that this may be of some help to you.

P.T.O.

Should you come across any PAVITT or PAVETT genealogists I would be most interested to hear from them. I have a small international circle of researchers into this name. We have references to some of this name who went to America in the 17th & 18th centuries, - but no trace of present-day US residents of this name.

Please excuse the ramble - I am writing this in hospital.

Yours sincerely.

Dear Mr. Pavitt:

I am very interested in knowing about the Paffords of England.

My grandmother's name was Safronia Adeline Pafford b 1861 in VA Smythe Co.
Her father's name, John H.Pafford, b Smythe Co.,VA

His father's name, John Pafford, b probably in North Carolina.ca 1800

This is as far as I have proof. I find a William in Stokes Co.,NC in the 1790 census.ofThere is a William who is a proven Rev. War soldier, from Stokes Co., NC. but the names of his children can not be found. When he applied for his pension, he waid that all his children were dead.

There are a number of Paffords in and around Camden,Benton Co.,TN. In our Federal Census', the older ones all say that they had been born in North Carolina.

So far as being able to 'jump the big pond' and make a connection overseas, I'm far from it. In ENGLISH CONVICTS IN COLONIAL AMERICA by Peter Wilson Coldham,this lists a 'Pafford als Reynold, Thomas for Barbados or Jamaica Mar 1688' This is the oldest record that I have found of a Pafford coming to the New World. It is also sometimes spelled Parford is our early records.

Could we perhaps be able to heap each other? I work in a Genealogical Library, a major research center here in Houston,Tx.

I enclose a $1.00 for you to buy stamps.and I look forward to hearing from you.

Most Sincerely,

Dear Vivian,

I am closing a couple more pieces of research material regarding my great-grandfather John H. Pafford.

One I received from a friend in Kansas who is a BLACKARD - the maiden name of my paternal grandmother. As you can see, his father (my great-grandfather) was John Henry Paffard who married Martha Ann Hutton. His father (my great-great-grandfather) was also a John Pafford, born about 1803, who married Sarah Ann Hutton.

You may want to contact my friend in Kansas about her sources:

Dear Vivian,

30 APRIL 1999

Yes, I am the person you once corresponded with about my PAFFORD line. I have traced it back to the Civil War. Actually, back to about through a book I bought.

I have no idea where you got the THOMPSON name. I have not run into that name. To answer your specific question: I got the data on my father from him, as well as his father (my grandfather) from my father. I researched the Genealogical Dept. at the Roanoke Library. They have copies of the microfilms from Library of Congress. I also got copies of my great-grandfather's Pension Papers when he got his pension in 1913. He served in the 23rd Infantry, Army of Virginia in General Early's Brigade and was taken prisoner during the Battle of Winchester, VA, on 22-Sept 1864.

Enclosed are some papers which may clarify and/or help you with your own research.

(OVER)

The earliest record seems to have been in AD 739 showing PATHFORD as a place-name in Devonshire. In the year 1086 AD the spelling was PATFORD, and in 1242 AD the name appears as PAFFORD.

In Cornwall in 1324 was a mercantile business run by William de Pafford.

In CHAGFORD in 1377 AD a land deed was witnessed by John Pafford

In ~~1674~~ 1682 AD it is shown that Henry Pafford married Hannah Quash.

One Pafford immigrant was Thomas Pafford and his son James who settled in Tenn.

Around 1820 they lived in Tennessee near the GA. border. James was grown & married Welthy Corbitt. Their first child was Rowan. In 1840 Welthy became a widow & married Isaac Curry & they moved to South Georgia. The first Paffords to be Georgians were children of James & Welthy, although they were born in Tenn.

In Korea in 1952 in the Marine Corps I met a Major Pafford who came from this line.

Dear Phil:

I hope this finds you and yours well and sassy! I think of you often, knowing that I should be checking the Paffords, but then the spirit is willing, but there is just so must I can ask of this old body...heh,heh.

We have moved into our new, gorgeous library. Being closed for three weeks, really put such pressure on the Staff, not to mention the physical labor. Some of us are no spring chickens, and the so called movers, that were supposed to box the books from the shelves and take them over, didn/t seem to know how. ..so we started to removedthe books/other articles....for about one day and half we should have been paid the price of moving...after awhile, they began to show some life. Without our volunteers to help sort and reshelf, we would still be closed I guess.

Anyway, things at home have just had to sit. So that is why I'm sendigg this Pafford material on to you, so that you could really analyze and form an opinion. At my very cursery glance, it would seem to be very similiar to the one that Dorothy Alread of Fort Worth, Tx. sent to me a while back.

This young girl that sent it to me, has been so lackadaisical about answering phone calls/letters, that I was so surprised to get this packet in the mail. Her covering note was that she had gotten this from her father,(I've never gotten her to tell me his name or send a chart on her lineage) and that it took her quite some time to copy it and correct it. There are a few pages that she left out purposely or accidently, I don't know. Her name, Judy Pafford Quinn.

Please give it a look see, and tell me what you think, o.k.? Would appreciate. I know that I did spot places where she, whomever this Norma June Pafford Elliott Anderson is, quoted a birth place as being given on a Census that doesn't even ask that information...things like that worry me. No documentation.

I am sooo looking forward to retirement in '89!!! There aee so many things that I want to do.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Vivian H. Jordan

Well, I'm not dead, just so far behind, as usual, but your letter got buried and honest, I have just now retrieved it!! Lordonly knows what else may be on my desk top. I've been trying to put my records on computer and still work my hours at the Library and now the typewriter keyboard is just enough difference in spacing etc. for me to be amking stupid mistakes.

You wrote in July of 86...ouch! You had send some marriages and births that you had found in Marion,VA courthouse.

I'm going to have to beg off on going into explaining the different names because, I'm snowed under with preparations for the return of one of my daughters from Germany, after 3 years. By preparations, I mean, clearing out my genealogy so that she and hubby and 2 young sons, will be able to move in the bedromm where they will be sleeping!

I had made some notations on your letter, evidently when I first got it, and then it got shuffled around. I have had some hot & heavy Pafford correspondence with a Camden, TN bunch and a cousin in OK. So I will really get back with you and try to pull all these Paffords together. There is a Benton Co., History coming out soon that one of these cousins is helping the society publish....real anxious to see what information she has put in the Pafford section.

My Okla. cousin just quit writing, so was really a gungho researcher and went to see several of the cousin in Crockett,VA etc.

Please forgive this teaser, but I will get back with you along the end of July when everyone is gone and I can get back to normal,o.k.??

APOLOGIES again for the delay in answering.

Dear Vivian,

I apologize for being so long in writing to you since my vacation, vit our business has been very good, and I have been working longweeks. But I am going to take some time this afternoon to let you know what I have done.

When I was on vacation in Wytheville, VA, I visited the County Court House of Wythe County, VA, and they had essentially no records of the Pafford family. I wasn't surprised though, since none of my family was from Wythe County.

Then I went out to Wytheville Community College, and they have a Genealogical Library called the Kegley Collection which is largely devoted to genealogical information relating to Wythe County. (My sister-in-law is a Kegley). So that wasn't much help either.

I did meet a nice lady in Wytheville that is a "HURT". Her maiden name was Pafford, but she had no information that was of any use in broadening the information on the family line. She is in her 90's anf not "with it" at all.

One day I drove down to Marion, VA., which is in Smythe County, and spent the entire day there. I spent all morning in the Smythe County Courthouse checking records. I found a number of Pafford's listed both in the birth records and marriage records. I couldn't get access to the Will Book, as someone else was using it. The births and marriages I found are enclosed. I only recognize a few of these names. Wiley was our grand-uncle; Mamie was my aunt. If you know any of these and can tie them into our family line, I'd like to know how. I also found a book in a used bookstore called The Pafford Line In Review which lists a line of three or four generations of Paffords in GA. I have copied out some family sheets, and if you want them I'll be happy to send you a copy.

In Marion there is a cemetary called the Hutton Cemetary, and that is where our great-grandfather and his family are buried (John Henry Pafford, that is). But I couldn't find it. So when I got home I wrote to the local Marion funeral parlor and asked about it and he sent me specific directions. So next summer I am going back and get some names, dates and take some pictures in that cemetary. He also offered to let me search their old funeral records if I wish to.

Must close and run. I'll be glad to hear from you again.

Dear Phil:

In the process of trying to clear off my desk, I came across your letter of 19 Feb.

It really is nice to find another cousin and one that seems to be as interested as I am in this crazy genealogy.

I'm so glad that you plan a trip back to VA. that to me is always the best way. I correspond with another cousin, her line married into the Flanagans. She had dug around and located some of her living relatives back in Crodkett and environs. The last letter I had from her, some sort of family crisis had occurred and she wrote a short note saying that she would get in touch with me when things had straightened out. Very mysterious but I haven't heard from her in quite some time. I just may take the bull by the horns and try to dash off a little note and she how she is doing.

The computer bug bit me, so every spare minute that I have, which isn't too many, I try to enter some of my material. So far, it has been slow going, but after getting over the hump of exactly how I wanted to do things...i.e. numbering and etc.,..I'm moving along pretty good.

I'm really going to be waiting for your 'report' of your trip to VA this summer. Sure hope that you find out a lot. Please let me know what you do and who you talk to.

My husband and I are going to Germany on the 7 of May...the good Lord willing and if the powers that be haven't decidedthhat we should have a WAR. We haven't seen this daughter in almost two yaars, and that is too long. Her husband is a construction engineer working for the Army in Frankfurt.

Good luck on your trip.

Dear Vivian,

I really do appreciate your reply to me regarding my family research, and all of the important information which you sent to me. It is very helpful, and confirms what I had found in most cases.

You are correct in assuming we are related "somehow" through the Pafford lineage. I am enclosing a photocopy of two of the pages you sent me. On the John Henry Pafford Obituary page, note the asterisks. We are related in that your grandmother (Safronia) and my grandfather (James Robert) were brother and sister. Under James R.: b. 18 Nov 1856, d. 21 Nov 1931, m. to Mary Ellen Blackard ca. 1880. Among his children, you will note Luther - that was my father; there was another daughter (Mamie Odell). And there was a typo in my material - my father was born in 1890, not 1980.

As far as the obituary of Sarah A. Pafford, it states that beside her husband's grave is a stone believed to be her husband's father, upom which is carved John H. Pafford, born 20 April 1832, died 6 Jan 1913. That was my great-grandfather who was married on 9 Sept 1856 to Martha Ann Hutton. But on your page on John Henry Pafford there is no son named John H. Pafford listed; so your grandmother Safronia and my grandfather James Robert had another brother named John H.

As I expand on my information, if you would like I shall be happy to share it as I go along. This summer I am going back to SW Virginia on vacation and I hope to do a lot of on-the-spot research.

Again, thank you so very much for your help.

In N.C. I looked at some early tax lists of Paffords...and a few lines it was spelled as we do and the next entry would be Parford. I imagine that regional accents had a great deal to do with how things were spelled and if these were the immigrants, then they probably had accents from jolly old England!

By the way, I work in a Genealogical Library here in Houston, Clayton Library. So I'm doing this stuff all day long!

Let me hear from you. You DID mean to put 1880 didn't you, instead of 1980 for the birth of Luther Thomas Pafford??

Dear Mrs. Jordan,

I recently learned from the records in the local Mormon Church Genealogical Library that you have done some searching into the PAFFORD family lineage.

Just recently I began to piece together my own family tree using family records at hand; I have not done any on-site research into county burial or marriage records, etc. I thought that I would write you a note, however, and send you my own family tree as far as I have taken it to date. And perhaps you would share with me one or more of the Pafford family sheets you might have been able to put together.

It is my understanding from some other research I have done here in local libraries that the Pafford line comes from Devonshire, England. The first trace of a member of my line to come to the U.S. was from Passenger Lists; the report is of a John Pafford arriving on a British convict ship in Jamaica or Barbadoes in 1688.

I am enclosing for you information a copy of an article from The Genealogist's Magazine, Vol. 16, No. 3, September, 1969, which reports records involving the Pafford name as early as 739, 1086, 1242, 1330 and 1415, all in Devonshire, England, and all relating to land transactions.

Any suggestions, information or family sheets you would wish to share with me would be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

Dear Phil:

Thanks so much for writing--it really will be interesting to find out how we're related. Your letter arrived while I was in Marion for a small-scale, last-minute reunion of Paffords. I have aroused the interest of a lot of the relatives with the family history investigations--primarily the older, distant cousins.

Both my father and mother (a Hutton) are from the Marion area but they moved to Tenn. after the first 4 of 12 children were born--I am number 3. For that reason, we saw and knew very little of our relatives on either side. Most of my family is still in the Kingsport, TN area--I have sisters in San Diego, Hot Springs (Ark), Savage (Md--15 mi. from me) and a brother in Pensacola.

While I was down for the recent visit, I spent 1 and half-days at the East Tenn. State Univ. library--going through copies of census records they have for all States on microfilm. I was able to put a lot of pieces together but still have a lot more--plus organizing it--to do.

I'm enclosing a note that I wrote concerning a visit to Smyth County Courthouse and Hutton (Centenary) cemetery. I'm also enclosing a couple of sheets I've compiled so far. I have a hunch that your great-great-grandfather (John, born 1800) may have been the father of my great-great grandfather, William T. (born 1822-24). The ages would be about right and there wasn't another male Pafford in Smyth County at the same time that would be close to the right" age. I also found that your great-grandmother, Sarah A.,65 yrs. lived with her daughter's family in the 1870 census--names were Robert (24) & Minerva C. (21) White (children: Sarah A.E.(3) and Tesora (sp??)(5/12 mos.) in Smyth County. There was also a "Mary Pafford, 71 yrs., living with her daughter, Mary Hubble (53) and son-in-law, Josh (55) in 1850 census--this may have been your great-great-great grandmother (mother of John b. 1800)!

Thanks for the information you sent--maybe some day I will finally get it together. I'm sending a couple of sheets that I have finished that I thought you might be interested in. Another cousin has gotten information from the Marion courthouse and is going to send it to me--I'll let you know if any of it pertains to your branch of the family.

Good luck on your trip--hope you have someone to point out the cemetery--it is NOT easy to find. I will appreciate anything you can pass along from what you learn from your visit to Marion.

Thanks again for writing--hope I will hear from you again soon.

Best wishes

Shirley

In searching records at the Smyth County, Virginia (Marion) court house, I found the following that you might be interested in:
The will of John H. Pafford (married to Martha Ann Hutton) named the following children: W. T. Pafford (Wylie???) or William T., brother?? C.T. Pafford (Charles T., b. 11-20-1869,d. 4-8-1952, married to Lena H., b. 9-20-1877 d. 5-12-1974--both buried at Rose Lawn Cemetery in Marion, Va.--one daughter, Zella Anderson); Sarah Prator; Sophronia Flanigan (Vivian Jordan's great-grandmother); Mary Goodpasture (buried in Hutton cemetery at Centenary in Marion vicinity); and Berta Cormandy (several Cormandy's are buried in Hutton cemetery).

1870 census for Smyth County shows John H. & Martha Ann Pafford (37 & 32 yrs. old) with Sarah E, 13;Mary E,11;Safronia A.,9;James R.,6;Florence, 4;Charles T.,under 1.
1880 census shows them without Sarah and Safronia but with Wylie, 6; and Berta M.,3.
1860 census shows only children Sarah and Mary but also mother-in-law(?) Mary Ann Hutton, 50, and Eliza E. Hutton, 14, living with John & Sarah.

A book on Smyth County History and Traditions by Goodrich Wilson has a reference to a "J.R. Pafford" who was active as a Methodist layman and helped build and maintain the church at Nicks Creek. Also mentions "John Pafford" voting in 1833. The Historical Society in Marion Court House and Dominion Bank in Marion sells the book.

Dear Mr Pafford

How lovely to be able to write to a Pafford. I was always told by my mother that if I came across one they were bound to be related. I was born MARJORIE PAFFORD daughter of JAMES PAFFORD of Yeovil Somerset. Sadly the name seems to have more or less died out among the Yeovil branch, which make me suspect your family come from the Portsmouth Hants area. In actual fact the surname was fairly common there during the early part of the 19th cent. There is no solve about the Paffords as you imagined, but if you are seeking information I have been researching them (Devon Hampshire, Somerset etc) for ten years, and to the best of my knowledge am the only person doing English research on the family.

Portsmouth, 19th century

Would be delighted to learn where you fit in, and also may be able to clarify your research the family as very ancient indeed.

May I ask a favour also — Have you ever come across a certain JOHN PAFFORD ~~shoemaker~~ brickmaker who settled in South Carolina 17th century and got caught up in the War of Independence. He was back in England by 1784. He had quite a lot of adventures resulting from his attempts to keep out of trouble, seems to have been thrown in Lothbourne gaol several times. I believe there is also mention of him in the New York Archives actually 1781 found about 1776 (again in trouble)

It was not part of my branch that would love to hear more of.

him. I hope you will forgive a brief, somewhat scribbled letter but am just about to leave for the Canary Isles (will be back just before Xmas) — I can't really send you any Pafford information until I know which branch you come from. (I have four closely packed files on the family & obviously can't send it all!)

I hope to hear from you — was most excited to learn of your existence and interest in the family.

Hope you can decipher my writing — I usually type, for clarity, but as I said, this is written in haste!

Loyalist's MAG. V.16 #3 Sept 1965 by J.H.P. Pafford

JOHN PAFFORD 13th June 1784

A Brickmaker, went to America in 1774 from Hampshire - he carried out £200 with him.

There is a schedule of losses annexed to his Memorial amounting to £5000. He charges £3000 for cultivated tracts of land. He had £800 with his wife. He suffered two, years, three months imprisonment. He never bore arms for the Rebels and therefore they imprisoned him. He confesses that the Rebels tendered the oaths to him about two years after he went to America and that he abjured the King.

There are Certificates from Mr Savage and Mr Dendridge to his being imprisoned on account of his refusing to bear arms to the loss of property as stated in the Memorial to one from Col. Moniriaf.

He has a wife and two children whom he has left in America. He came over to prosecute his Claim under the Act of Parliament and he came by the advice of the Governer. He is in the greatest distress. No further Certificate Required.

Decision

Of all the groundless and imprudent Claims that have been brought before us, this is the most imprudent. The claiment is an Englishman and had barely set foot in America when the Rebellion broke out. As soon as that Rebellion grew to a sufficient height to make it necessary for him to declare his principles he immediately swears Allegiance to Rebel Ranks and abjures his King. However when called upon by his new Sovereigns he refuses to bear arms and they treated him, very properly in our opinmon by confining him afterwards, and took part with his Country in consequence of which undoudtedly, he has lost all his American property.

He has valued that property very improperly by putting a very high value upon uncultivated tracts of land. That however is not our reason for rejecting his claim. It is on account of the Shablings of his conduct and the total want of principle which he has discovered, that we say he deserves no encouragement from that Government which he deserted when he thought it his interest to do so and to which he returned because he thought it would prevail. We therefore think him not entitled to any allowance and if by such conduct he is reduced again to the Trade of Brickmaker, he deserves no compassion.

MORE ADVENTURES OF JOHN A FRIEND OF MINE GOING ACROSS

Middle Warberry Rd, Torquay

Dear Phil,

Many thanks for your letter & enclosure. John Henry Pyle Pafford, the writer belongs to the Hampshire branch of the family. I used to correspond with him, although he has very little interest in Fam. Hist. only in the place name Pafford, (HE WOULD BE ABOUT 86 BY NOW) Parford & Combe Pafford (only 2 or 3 miles from Torquay) I have visited the hamlet Parford, a lovely area. I have not forgotten my promise to visit Exeter on your be-half, and eagerly look forward to doing so. However, we arrived back from the Canaries just 4 days before Xmas, had a visiter for a week, then both my husband & I developed heavy colds. We are better now, but snow has been falling (most unusual for Torquay) Your mention of the early American records (I would indeed like to see your family sheets also if they can be sent without too much expense, by sea?) reminded me that I HAVE copies of the 'memorial' of the John Pafford affair in S, Carolina. It was years ago, but I sent a copy to an authority in the area who I thought might be able to give me more information (I think it was the South Carolina Archives, but cannot really remember) Anyway, in your researches you may have come across them. They returned the original, but no doubt photo-copied them. In case not, am enclosing them for you. Who knows, you may be able to add another chapter to 'The misfortunes of John Pafford'

Other forms of the name Pafford are Pofford, Botford, Pothford and Parford

The ENGLISH PLACE NAME SOCIETY says the only "Pothford" it knows of was in Devonshire between Chogford and Dewsteignton. The Society says Pathford (as a place) dates back to A.D. 739. It appears as Patford in 806 and Pafford in 1242. The modern form is Porford. Since no other place name has been traced, it is reasonable to assume that the personal name of Pafford is derived from Pothford and there seems to be no doubt that the place name had been used to identify persons from early time. The earliest use of the name as an identification name from which the surname came is in connection with persons living in Cornwall or in Devonshire.

The name seems to have spread very little in England, being confined almost entirely to the South. By the 19th century, there were several families in Portsmouth. They apparently used the Pafford and Pofford spelling indifferently.

From Coldham,s "English Convicts In Colonial America", we find that in 1688, a Thomas Reynolds Pafford was sentennced to be transported to Barbados, Jamica. No age or crime was listed. This is almost 100 years before we have a record of the William Pafford in N.C. who fought in the Rev. War. EXCEPT - I came across the name of Thomas Reynolds Pafford in some land transactions of Early Colonial Days. That book is in the Library here in Camden and I /don,t know why I /didn,t write that information down but didn,t so will havd to go through all those again to find it.

3.

One of Camden,s very senior Paffords says he was told by those older than himself that Paffords came to the states in those early days because of trouble with those in authority over some horse trading. It seemed that the location of the Pafford settlement in England was directly across the narrow bit of water from France and the Paffords would take horses across and sell to the French. Now, I can,t say that was Thomas Reynolds Pafford,s problem. In those days, many people were being sent away or were slipping away from European countries for many reasons- some not true reasons for a crime.

Marriages at Kings Kerswell,

1752 to 1837.

NOTE.—There is a short account of the parish registers on one of the leaves of the oldest now extant. The handwriting is that of Rev. Aaron Neck, who served the parish first as Curate, and then as Perpetual Curate from 1812 to 1852. It seems from this that the oldest register (now unhappily lost) commenced September 20th, 1702, and ended March, 1752. It contained the register of Baptisms, Burials and Marriages, but there was a deficiency of the register of Marriages from 1702 to 1712, and from May, 1738, to May, 1745.

The next book, which is not of parchment, commences March, 1752, and ends 1812. It contains a complete register of Baptisms and Burials for that period, and of Marriages to March, 1763, but the Marriages seem to be more fully entered in the next volume. It is stated on the fly leaf of this one that it was bought in 1752. Rev. Henry Sleep, Curate, Henry Rendell and Richard Yabsley, churchwardens.

The next register of Marriages, 1754 to 1792, is on parchment, and being in a bad state of repair was restored at the expense of the present Vicar in 1892 by E. Cox and Son, of Chancery Lane. They have inserted a note that the register from 1st December, 1774, to 4th August, 1782, were wanting at the date of restoration. This volume commences with entries of Banns, which, in some cases, help to decipher those of marriage which follow.

The third volume is not of parchment, and also commences with entries of Banns. It was bought in 1786. The Rev. Thomas Fearer, Vicar, Daniel Codner and William Ash, wardens. This contains Marriages from 1786 to 1812.

The next volume contains Marriages from 1813 to 1837, and has entries for 300, but only 133 have been used.

These extracts have been made by the Rev. G. H. F. Fagan, Vicar of Kings Kerswell, and are now printed by his leave and under his supervision.

THE NAME PAFFORD, PAFFARD

By J. H. P. PAFFORD

Place Name

The name apparently comes from the place-name Pathford. It would not be unreasonable to expect that the two elements here, with their normal meanings, would have been found, joined in this way as a place-name, in different parts of England, meaning "the path to, through, or by the ford" or perhaps "the paved ford"; and that the derivative personal name would, in consequence, not be uncommon. In fact, however, the volumes of the English Place-Name Society apparently reveal only one name Pathford, which was in Devonshire between Chagford and Drewsteignton (The Place-Names of Devon. By J. E. B. Gover and others. Part II, 1932, p. 432). The name, with reputed dates of variant forms, is there given as Pathford 739, Patford 1086, Pafford 1242, the modern form being Parford. The volume also recalls the near-by farm called Pafford which had that name in 1330 and 1415 (Ibid. 485), and which the editors assume was also derived from Pathford.

In "Some Crediton documents re-examined" (Antiquaries Journal, Vol. 48, Part I. 1968, 59–86) Professor H. P. R. Finberg discusses a charter on the bounds of Creedy-land which he places "at some date not far removed from" 997; and, on p. 73, his translation of point 45 of the charter is "Upstream on the Teign to Path-ford" and his gloss reads "Where A382 crosses the Teign (713893). This is now called Dogmarsh Bridge, but the original name survives on both sides of the river in the corrupt forms Parford and (Great) Pafford." The places now called Pafford may stem from a personal name itself derived from one of the other two place-names.

In the will of John Windeatt of North Bovey dated 26 January 1759, he bequeaths his estates which include Pafford, and Great Pafford which is in the parish of Dewsteignton.

The names are recorded on the 2½ in. Ordnance Survey sheet SX/78; the references being Parford 713898, Higher Parford 714899, Parford/Pafford 727887, Great Pafford 728884.

The name is also found in the manor of Coomb-Pafford in the parish of St. Marychurch (Torquay) which is recorded in the Valor Ecclesiasticus of Exeter Cathedral presented to Henry VIII in 1534 (Dugdale, Monasticon, ii, 544–5 and W. R. Brownlow "Early history of St. Marychurch" in Trans. Devon. Assoc., 1886, 18, 149–60), but this, and a Pafford street name in St. Marychurch, may derive from the name used as a personal name.

Personal Name

Since no other place named Pafford has been traced it is reasonable to assume that the personal name derived directly from it and no doubt the place name had been used to identify persons from early times. The earliest uses noted are of persons living in Cornwall or Devonshire. The first is that of a William de Pafford, apparently living in Cornwall, who in four entries from 1324 to 1339 in rolls in the Public Record Office is recorded in monetary transactions indicating that he was a merchant of some substance. The Year Books, 12 Edward III (1338) refer to a J. de Pafford, probably of Devon. In the Devon and Cornwall Records Office, at Exeter, are two deeds of 1377 and 1389 concerning lands, etc., in Chagford to which John Pafford is a witness. Another deed there, of 1379, records the grant of lands, etc., in Whitchurch to John Pafforde (Powderham Castle Archives 131, 293, 380).

Entries for the name have been found in registers as follows:

(1) St. Mary Major, Exeter. Baptisms 1644, 8 and 9 Jan. Andrew and Anthoni sons of Anthonie and Barbara P., 1659 Grace daughter of Roger P., 1660 Charity daughter of Robert P. (2) St. Petrock's, Exeter. Marriages, 1682 Henry P. and Hannah Quash. (3) Heavitree, Exeter, Marriages, 1724 Robert P. and Margaret Walker. (4) Vivian's Marriage Licences, 1616 Nov. 22 George P. late of Broadwood Kelly and Dorothy Sparke of Moreton Hampstead; 1621/2 Mar. 21 William P. of North Tawton and Mary Northcott of Nymett Rowland; 1628/9 Mar. 3 John Peryam, Clerk, Curate of High Bickington and Amy P. of North Tawton. The spelling is apparently Pafford(e) in all cases.

In England the name seems to have spread little from the south. By the nineteenth century there were several families in Portsmouth, sometimes apparently using Pafford/Paffard spellings indifferently. There are two entries of the name in the London Telephone Directory, 1969. On the other hand the name is met with in several districts in the U.S.A. and is found in Canada.

The name Paffard, with normal interchange of a/o, is assumed to be only a variant spelling and unlikely to derive from an O. French pafard = a shield; but Spafford, which seems to be more common in the north of England, may perhaps be another form of Spofford, Spofforth, presumably derived from the place of that name in the W. Riding of Yorkshire.

THE NAME PAFFORD, PAFFARD

By J. H. P. PAFFORD

Place Name

The name apparently comes from the place-name Pathford. It would not be unreasonable to expect that the two elements here, with their normal meanings, would have been found, joined in this way as a place-name, in different parts of England, meaning "the path to, through, or by the ford" or perhaps "the paved ford"; and that the derivative personal name would, in consequence, not be uncommon. In fact, however, the volumes of the English Place-Name Society apparently reveal only one name Pathford, which was in Devonshire between Chagford and Drewsteignton (The Place-Names of Devon. By J. E. B. Gover and others. Part II, 1932, p. 432). The name, with reputed dates of variant forms, is there given as Pathford 739, Patford 1086, Pafford 1242, the modern form being Parford. The volume also ~~recalls~~ the near-by farm called Pafford which had that name in 1330 and 1415 (Ibid. 485), and which the editors assume was also derived from Pathford.

In "Some Crediton documents re-examined" (Antiquaries Journal, Vol. 48, Part I. 1968, 59–86) Professor H. P. R. Finberg discusses a charter on the bounds of Creedy-land which he places "at some date not far removed from" 997; and, on p. 73, his translation of point 45 of the charter is "Upstream on the Teign to Path-ford" and his gloss reads "Where A382 crosses the Teign (713893). This is now called Dogmarsh Bridge, but the original name survives on both sides of the river in the corrupt forms Parford and (Great) Pafford." The places now called Pafford may stem from a personal name itself derived from one of the other two place-names.

In the will of John Windeatt of North Bovey dated 26 January 1759, he bequeaths his estates which include Pafford, and Great Pafford which is in the parish of Dewsteignton.

The names are recorded on the 2½ in. Ordnance Survey sheet SX/78; the references being Parford 713898, Higher Parford 714899, Parford/Pafford 727887, Great Pafford 728884.

The name is also found in the manor of Coomb-Pafford in the parish of St. Marychurch (Torquay) which is recorded in the Valor Ecclesiasticus of Exeter Cathedral presented to Henry VIII in 1534 (Dugdale, Monasticon, ii, 544–5 and W. R. Brownlow "Early history of St. Marychurch" in Trans. Devon. Assoc., 1886, 18, 149–60), but this, and a Pafford street name in St. Marychurch, may derive from the name used as a personal name.

Personal Name

Since no other place named Pafford has been traced it is reasonable to assume that the personal name derived directly from it and no doubt the place name had been used to identify persons from early times. The earliest uses noted are of persons living in Cornwall or Devonshire. The first is that of a William de Pafford, apparently living in Cornwall, who in four entries from 1324 to 1339 in rolls in the Public Record Office is recorded in monetary transactions indicating that he was a merchant of some substance. The Year Books, 12 Edward III (1338) refer to a J. de Pafford, probably of Devon. In the Devon and Cornwall Records Office, at Exeter, are two deeds of 1377 and 1389 concerning lands, etc., in Chagford to which John Pafford is a witness. Another deed there, of 1379, records the grant of lands, etc., in Whitchurch to John Pafforde (Powderham Castle Archives 131, 293, 380).

Entries for the name have been found in registers as follows:

(1) St. Mary Major, Exeter. Baptisms 1644, 8 and 9 Jan. Andrew and Anthoni sons of Anthonie and Barbara P., 1659 Grace daughter of Roger P., 1660 Charity daughter of Robert P. (2) St. Petrock's, Exeter. Marriages, 1682 Henry P. and Hannah Quash. (3) Heavitree, Exeter, Marriages, 1724 Robert P. and Margaret Walker. (4) Vivian's Marriage Licences, 1616 Nov. 22 George P. late of Broadwood Kelly and Dorothy Sparke of Moreton Hampstead; 1621/2 Mar. 21 William P. of North Tawton and Mary Northcott of Nymett Rowland; 1628/9 Mar. 3 John Peryam, Clerk, Curate of High Bickington and Amy P. of North Tawton. The spelling is apparently Pafford(e) in all cases.

In England the name seems to have spread little from the south. By the nineteenth century there were several families in Portsmouth, sometimes apparently using Pafford/Paffard spellings indifferently. There are two entries of the name in the London Telephone Directory, 1969. On the other hand the name is met with in several districts in the U.S.A. and is found in Canada.

Church of Lichfield. The chapel is dedicated to All Saints. The inhabitants of Gaydon marry and bury at Chadshunt, which obtained a separate register in 1813, having previously been included in Bishop's Itchington. In the burial-ground of the chapel was anciently an oratory, containing an image of St. Chad, to which numerous pilgrimages and offerings were made.

CHADWELL (St. Mary's), a parish, in the hundred of Barstable, county of Essex, 3 miles (S.) from Orsett, containing 180 inhabitants. It is bounded on the south by the Thames. In a wood near the highway leading to Stifford are several ancient excavations, termed Danes' Holes. Tilbury Fort is partly in this parish. The living is a rectory, in the archdeaconry of Essex, and diocese of London, rated in the king's books at £17. 13. 4., and in the patronage of the Rev. J. P. Herringham.

CHADWELL, a ward, in the parish of Barking, hundred of Beacontree, county of Essex, 9½ miles (N. E. by E.) from London, containing 733 inhabitants.

CHADWELL, a chapelry, in that part of the parish of Rothley which is in the Eastern Division of the hundred of Goscote, county of Leicester, 5 miles (N. N. E.) from Melton-Mowbray, containing, with the hamlet of Wycomb, 103 inhabitants. The chapel is dedicated to St. Mary.

CHADWICK, a hamlet, in the parish of Bromsgrove, Upper Division of the hundred of Halfshire, county of Worcester, 3½ miles (N. by E.) from Bromsgrove, with which the population is returned. Here was formerly a chapel, now demolished.

CHAFFCOMBE (St. Michael), a parish, in the Southern Division of the hundred of Petherton, county of Somerset, 3¼ miles (S. by W.) from Ilminster, containing 243 inhabitants. The living is a discharged rectory, in the archdeaconry of Taunton, and diocese of Bath and Wells, rated in the king's books at £9. 10. 2½., and in the patronage of Earl Poulett.

CHAGFORD (St. Michael), a market-town and parish, in the hundred of Wonford, Crockernwell Division of the county of Devon, 15 miles (S. W. by W.) from Exeter, and 186 (S. W.) from London, containing 1868 inhabitants. This place, originally held by Dodo, a Saxon, was given by William the Conqueror to the Bishop of Constance, and in 1328 was made one of the stannary towns by Edw. III., who invested the lords of the manor with the power of inflicting capital punishment. In 1643, an action took place between the royalists and the parliamentarians, in which Sidney Godolphin was killed; and in the same century a fire occurred, in which the charter for holding the market, and other records, were destroyed. The town is pleasantly situated near the river Teign, and sheltered by hills of romantic form; the houses are irregularly built, but the environs abound with pleasing and picturesque scenery. On the banks of the Teign a large woollen-manufactory has been established. The market is on Thursday: fairs are held on the last Thursday in March, the first Thursday in May, the last Thursday in Sep., and the last Thursday in Oct. The stannary court, in which the principal business respecting the mines is transacted, is held here. The living is a rectory, in the archdeaconry and diocese of Exeter, rated in the king's books at £39. 0. 10., and in the patronage of Mrs. Grace Hames. The church is a handsome structure, and contains a richly executed monument to the memory of Sir John Widdon, Chief Justice of the court of King's Bench in the reign of Mary. About £12 is annually paid to a schoolmaster, out of the rental of certain church lands, for teaching ten poor boys, who are appointed by the churchwardens; and a schoolmistress receives £7 per annum, arising from a benefaction of £200 by John Weekes, about 1790, for instructing six children. At the hamlets of Great Weeke and Teigncombe, in this parish, are the remains of ancient chapels: there was a chapel also at Rushford.

CHAIGLEY, a joint township with Aighton and Bailey, in that part of the parish of Mitton which is in the Lower Division of the hundred of Blackburn, county palatine of Lancaster, 6½ miles (W. by N.) from Clitheroe. The population is returned with Aighton.

CHAILEY (St. Peter), a parish, in the hundred of Street, rape of Lewes, county of Sussex, 6½ miles (N. by W.) from Lewes, containing 1030 inhabitants. The living is a rectory, in the archdeaconry of Lewes, and diocese of Chichester, rated in the king's books at £9. 4. 2., and in the patronage of T. B. Bowen, Esq., and another. The church is principally in the early style of English architecture. There is a place of worship for dissenters. In 1770, Thomas Tempest bequeathed £40, producing £3. 10. per annum, for teaching four poor children. A National school for both sexes has been established.

CHALBURY, a parish, in the hundred of Badbury, Winbourn Division of the county of Dorset, 5 miles (N. by E.) from Wimborne-Minster, containing 157 inhabitants. The village is situated on rising ground, commanding a fine view of the Needles and the British Channel. A particular sort of fine sand, used by founders, is obtained here. The living is a rectory, in the archdeaconry of Dorset, and diocese of Bristol, rated in the king's books at £7. 10. 2½., and in the patronage of the Earl of Pembroke. There is a school conducted on the National system. At Didlington, in this parish, there was anciently a chapel, now a farm-house, near which foundations of houses are often discovered in turning up the ground.

CHALCOMBE (St. Peter and St. Paul), a parish, in the hundred of King's Sutton, county of Northampton, 3¾ miles (N. E. by E.) from Banbury, containing 493 inhabitants. The living is a discharged vicarage, in the archdeaconry of Northampton, and diocese of Peterborough, rated in the king's books at £7. 17., endowed with £600 private benefaction, and £400 royal bounty, and in the patronage of Charles Fox, Esq.

CHALDON (St. Peter), a parish, in the First Division of the hundred of Wallington, county of Surrey, 3 miles (N. E.) from Gatton, containing 173 inhabitants. Here are some quarries of a soft species of stone, which is not much used. The living is a discharged rectory, in the archdeaconry of Surrey, and diocese of Winchester, rated in the king's books at £7. 10. 7½., and in the patronage of the Rev. Thomas Welton.

CHALDON-HERRING (St. Nicholas), a parish, in the liberty of Bindon, locally in the hundred of Winfrith, Wareham Division of the county of Dorset, 10½ miles (W. S. W.) from Wareham, containing 270 inhabitants. This parish is bounded by the English Channel on the south, where there is a signal station. Chaldon-

ENGLISH CONVICTS IN COLONIAL AMERICA

VOLUME II: THE CITY OF LONDON

Introduction

The famous "one square mile" of the City of London was as populous in the 17th and 18th centuries as its area was small. From 1656 to 1775 it sentenced 6,000 of its citizens to be taken from Newgate Prison to the Americas as punishment for various crimes, mostly of an extremely petty nature.. Their names have been assembled from a variety of original records and it may reasonably be claimed that the lists now presented are comprehensive for the period covered.

As with other volumes in the series, this book is arranged and intended as a key to sources from which further information may be obtained: it is not in itself a comprehensive statement.

Genealogical research in the City of London has always be attended with peculiar difficulties arising mainly from the division of the capital into 112 separate parishes. Official records are rarely helpful in this respect, and accused persons appearing before the courts were almost invariably described simply as "of London". To trace the origins of those London convicts listed it may therefore be helpful to note from the Bills of Indictment where their offences were committed and to consult the parish registers for those and immediately surrounding areas.

The Corporation of London Records Office, whose advice and assistance in the compilation of this volume have been invaluable, have in their custody a wealth of material relating to the subject of transportation. Of particular interest are the 17th century Royal Pardons and transportation bonds, and the landing certificates of the early 18th century. With the aid of the London Pardons it has proved possible to trace in the Public Record Office (see below) an almost complete series of pardons for England and Wales. These, in turn, have brought to light the names of a substantial additional number of Middlesex convicts reprieved for transportation which have now been included as a supplement to the present volume.

It is not proposed in this volume to repeat the brief history of transportation to the Americas which appeared in Volume I. However, the statement there made that the practice of transportation fell into abeyance during the Wars of 1701-1712 needs some modification. It is now clear from further study of contemporary documents that, while male convicts of suitable age and physique were conscripted into the armed services, and robust females were sent to serve a term in the workhouse, those with limited capacity because of age or other disability continued to be transported.

NOTES ON THE RECORDS USED

CORPORATION OF LONDON RECORDS OFFICE

Royal Pardons 1662-1693

These are the originals of warrants (in Latin) engrossed on parchment, and issued in the name of the Sovereign to the Sheriffs of London and Middlesex, authorising them to reprieve convicts in their custody, some on payment of sureties for good bahaviour and others on condition of their being transported. Many of these parchments are decayed.

Transportation Bonds 1661-1772

Originals of the bonds by which transportation contractors and (after 1717) the captains of departing ships bound themselves under financial penalty to embark named convicts for delivery to the colonies. The series is incomplete, especially for the period up to 1718, but from then until 1772 it has been the major source for the compilation of this volume. Later bonds include the names of those sentenced at Southwark and at the Liberty of the Tower. The names of those sentenced by the Southwark magistrates will be included in a later volume to cover the County of Surrey. The Liberty of the Tower, a precinct within the City of London, appears to have enjoyed an autonomous jurisdiction although no surviving records of its courts can now be traced: names of those few convicts sentenced here to be transported (according to entries in the transportation bonds) have been included in this volume.

Landing Certificates 1718-1736

The Act of Parliament of 1717 prescribing the penalty of transportation for a wide variety of offences laid down that a certificate was to be provided by the governor or customs house at the port of arrival to certify the convicts' landing. The certificates preserved in London records cover landings of convicts from London, Middlesex and the Home Counties.

Sessions Minute Books

In these volumes, each covering a full year from December to November, are noted in brief the proceedings at Sessions of the Peace alternately with those of the Gaol Delivery Sessions. The names of all prisoners are set out with a note of the charges against them, and abbreviated superscriptions record the sentences imposed. The series has been used to supplement other sources and particularly to fill the gaps occurring in the transportation bonds. For the period 1718-1760 the full text of these bonds was copied into the Sessions Minute Books but thereafter there are increasing lapses.

Sessions Rolls

Each roll contains the documents relating to one Sessions including a separate indictment for each accused prisoner giving his name, occupation (usually "labourer"), and details of his offence, with a superscription recording the sentence passed. The Bills of Indictment have been used only to extract supplementary information, and particularly for the year 1768.

PUBLIC RECORD OFFICE

Patent Rolls (C66)

In compiling Volume I of this series it was assumed, incorrectly as it now appears, that gaol delivery records were the only surviving source for the names of those reprieved for transportation before 1718. The Royal Pardons which came to light in the Corporation of London records stimulated further searches for a central register of such documents which finally proved successful with the dicovery of an almost complete run of pardons copied into the Patent Rolls. The earliest pardon granted on condition of transportation appears to be that dating from 1654: before that date the many pardons recorded in similar form contain no such proviso and it seems likely, therefore, (and occasional notes in Middlesex records and in State Papers lend some colour to the supposition) that poorer prisoners of the early 17th century who were unable to buy their freedom were offered to colonizers as free labour. The pardons copied into the Patent Rolls cover the whole of England and Wales and give the names of reprieved prisoners, their quality, and usually their parish of residence except for London citizens. The Latin texts follow a standard and fairly rigid formula identifying those prisoners to be pardoned on condition of their giving sureties for future good behaviour, and those to be transported to the plantations for a term of years. It was usual also to specify which colony or colonies were to receive the deportees and, from surviving bonds of the 17th century, it is possible to deduce that most of the London and Middlesex convicts reprieved were shipped to the West Indies. Nevertheless many criminals from other areas of England must have found their way to the American mainland to judge from the protest made in 1670 by the Governor of Virginia (and recorded in State Papers) against the frequent sending to that plantation of English felons.

Money Books (T53)

These large ledgers contain details of payments made by the British Treasury to the transportation contractors from August 1718, and until October 1744 they also record the names of those transported from the City of London and the Home Counties, of the ships on which they were embarked, and of their destination. After 1744 only the combined totals and the names of ships and captains were entered

Treasury Board Papers (T1)

Scattered amongst this vast collection is a broken run of transportation lists 1747-1772 which contain much the same information as given previously in the Money Books

Privy Council Papers
State Papers (Domestic)

The Calendars of both series of papers have been searched in order to establish certain additional names and details of transported felons.

OTHER SOURCES

The printed series of Old Bailey Sessions Papers for the City of London and County of Middlesex has been consulted for additional details of certain cases

Extracts from copyright documents including those in Crown copyright are published by permission of Her Britannic Majesty's Stationery Office and the Corporation of the City of London

HOW TO USE THIS BOOK

Names have been listed in alphabetical order of surname according to modern spellings and the entries are cross-indexed where necessary. The month and year of sentence themselves provide adequate reference to the relevant Gaol Delivery Sessions Roll held by the Corporation of London Record Office. Occasionally an entry will show a date of transportation but without a date of sentence. In these cases it will be necessary to search the Index to Indictments for the immediately preceding period to obtain a reference to the Session Roll.

When a person is shown as having been reprieved for transportation, the date given is that on which a Royal Pardon was issued and not that of the origina sentence. To find the Bill of Indictment of a perso reprieved it will be necessary to search the Sessions Minute Books for up to two years before the date of reprieve.

The date of transportation has been included with individual entries only where it has been possible to find a receipt from the Captain of the transportation vessel. Where no date of transportation is shown for a person sentenced after 1717 it may be assumed in most cases that transportation was effected in the ship next to sail after the date of sentence.

A full list of Newgate pardons 1656-1717 and of sailings of convict ships 1716-1775 appears as an Appendix.

Devon Parish Registers.

Marriages at St. Andrew's, Plymouth,

1581 to 1837.

NOTE.—The Marriages solemnized in the Parish of St. Andrew, the Mother-Church of the Town of Plymouth, are contained in some twenty-four volumes of various sizes. The earliest Register is a small volume of 100 parchment leaves, and only measures 12 ins. by 9 ins. It has been recently rebound, and although some of the entries are somewhat illegible, the actual state of preservation is, on the whole, remarkably good. The first volume contains Baptisms, Marriages and Burials from 14th May, 1581, to the end of December, 1618, between which dates there is a complete record, except for a period of six months, viz. :—January, 1588, to June, 1589. During this period there seems to have been a lot of sickness in the town, for there is a large number of burials recorded under date of July and August, 1589.

This volume contains several interesting entries, inter alia, the following :—

Burials, 22 November, 1594.

"Sr. Martyne Forbisher, Knight, being wounded at the first battle against Breste by the Spanyerdes deceased at Plymouth the 22nd Novemb. whose entralls were here interred but his corpes were carried home to be Buried in London."

Burials, 28 June, 1595.

"Peeter Stringer, William Fynnye, John Smythe, William Stronge — These 4 men were slayne by the breaking of a piece in the Queen's ship ["Heron"?]"

Burials, 2 June, 1608.

"Godfrey Mason, Thomas Goffe, John Bennett, Thomas Hodges — "Pirates, executed and buried."

LIST OF FREEMEN.

[Communicated by Rev. Lucius R. Paige of Cambridge, member of the N. E. Hist. Geneal. Society.]

Under the first charter of the Massachusetts colony, none were regarded as freemen, or members of the body politic, except such as were admitted by the General Court and took the oath of allegiance to the government established. This custom continued in existence until, by the second charter, the colony was transformed into a province. Mr. Savage, in his edition of Winthrop's Journal, published a list of persons admitted freemen, to May 10, 1648; and he justly remarked, that "these are probably ancestors of near three fourths of the present inhabitants of the six New England states, with almost half of New York and Ohio." Having occasion to use a more full list of freemen, I transcribed, nearly eight years since, the names of all the persons admitted freemen, up to the time when the practice was discontinued, as recorded in the office of the Secretary of State. Agreeably to the request of the editor of the Register, this list is now furnished for publication. The names stand in the same order as in the original, and the orthography is carefully preserved. To guard more effectually against mistakes, I have recently, after so long an interval, compared my copy with the original, and I believe it to be correct, so far as the original remains legible. It is not surprising that many of the names are incorrectly spelled. They are not autographs; but they were written by the Secretary, according to the sound, as the names were pronounced to him. Moreover, it sometimes occurred, doubtless, that he did not catch the name accurately, and therefore mistook the true name. I have endeavoured to print an exact transcript; so that all readers may have the same opportunity to make proper corrections, which a perusal of the original will afford.

The oath administered to freemen is a document not without interest, and is here inserted, both in its original and its revised form, the orthography only being changed.

"The oath of a Freeman, or of a man to be made Free.

I A. B. &c. being by the Almighty's most wise disposition become a member of this body, consisting of the Governor, Deputy Governor, Assistants and Commonalty of the Massachusetts in New England, do freely and sincerely acknowledge that I am justly and lawfully subject to the government of the same, and do accordingly submit my person and estate to be protected, ordered and governed by the laws and constitutions thereof, and do faithfully promise to be from time to time obedient and conformable to the same, and to the authority of the said Governor and Assistants, and their successors, and to all such laws, orders, sentences and decrees as shall be lawfully made and published by them or their successors. And I will truly endeavor (as in duty I am bound) to advance the peace and welfare of this body or commonwealth, to my utmost skill and ability. And I will, to the best power and means, seek to divert and prevent whatsoever may tend to the ruin or damage thereof, or of any the said Governor, Deputy Governor, or Assistants, or any of them, or their successors, and will give speedy notice to them, or some of them, of any sedition, violence, treachery, or other hurt or evil, which I shall know, hear, or vehemently suspect, to be plotted or intended against the said commonwealth, or the said Government established. And I will not, at any time, suffer or give consent to any wrong or attempt, that shall be offered, given, or attempted, for the impeachment of the said Government, or making any change or alteration of the same, contrary to the laws and ordinances thereof; but shall do his utmost endeavor to discover, oppose and hinder all and every such evil counsel and attempt. So help me God." — Col. Rec. Vol. I. page 1.

"At a General Court holden at Boston, May 14, 1634.

"It was agreed and ordered, that the former oath of freemen shall be revoked, so far as it is dissonant from the oath of freemen hereunto written; and that those that received the former oath shall stand bound further thereby, to any intent or purpose, than this new oath ties those that now take the same." *
